Spurs Media Services

SPURS MEDIA SERVICES: As we begin the Spurs 20th season in San Antonio, we look forward to serving all members of the San Antonio area news media along with media from other cities. Director Dave Senko, Manager Tom James and Assistant Becky Salini look forward to working with you and filling whatever requests you have on the San Antonio Spurs. An outline of our services is listed below.

CREDENTIALS: When visiting the HemisFair Arena for a Spurs game, it is necessary that you have proper credentials. To obtain a game credential, please call any of the numbers listed at the bottom of the page to make your request. You may either pick the pass up in person at our offices or they will be left at the media gate at the Arena. Passes allow media members access to the lockerrooms, media work room and a press seat. NO PASSES WILL BE MAILED.

MEDIA GATE: The Spurs media entrance will be at the North end of the Hemisfair Arena. To locate the entrance, walk through the Arena service entrance which is located on Bowie Street. There will be an official check-in list for both local and visiting media. We ask that all members of the media please wear their credentials at all times and that they are visible for security personnel.

PARKING: Media personnel should consult the Spurs Media Services Department for parking information. Due to construction of the Alamodome, last year's parking lot will no longer be in use. Alternate plans were being discussed for the 1992-93 season at press time.

MEDIA ROOM: The media work room is located at the North end of the Arena and is directly across from the Spurs lockerroom. The media room will open two hours prior to tipoff. There is a meal service available and a credential is required to gain entrance. You must have a meal tag to eat in the media room. Telephones, work space, a fax machine and a copier are all provided.

GAME NIGHT SERVICES: Inside the Spurs media room, working media will find game notes and media guides and league information for your use. During the game, statistics will be provided for each quarter along with halftime and final team and individual statistics. Post-game quote sheets will also be provided.

RADIO AND TELEVISION: Accredited radio and television crews will be seated courtside. (Call letter banners are not allowed to be hung from press row). Camera locations are on the upper level in front of Section 320 and both ends of the court inside box. No other locations are available without first checking with the Spurs. We will be happy to supply spotters and statisticians, but we ask that you give us 24 hours notice. The minimum is $25 per person for that service and we request that support people be paid the evening of the game. We will also make every effort to provide post-game guests should they be requested.

PHOTOGRAPHERS: Accredited photographers will be permitted courtside inside the Arena in two locations. Photographers must remain inside their required painted boxes at all times. Remember, spectators are seated directly behind you and must not be blocked. Photographers are not allowed in the locker rooms. The following is suggested for all still photographers shooting in the Arena.

Lighting: tungsten with mercury vapor
Film B/W: Tri-X E,I 1600: shutter 500: F-stop 2.8
Film Color: High speed ectachrome type B,E,I: shutter 500; F-stop 2.0

CINEMATOGRAPHERS: We recommend all cinematographers shooting in the Arena to follow the guidelines listed below.

Film: Ectachrome 7242 (meter setting ASA 80, 85-B filter), Tungsten 3,200 Kelvin.

The Spurs On Radio

Jay Howard

WOAI/1200 AM

Once again, the Spurs will be heard on WOAI Radio (1200 AM) and its 50,000 watt clear channel signal that reaches 38 states and Mexico. The action will be heard starting with the club's pre-season opener on October 16 and it will continue throughout the playoffs.

Returning as the club's play-by-play broadcaster will be WOAI Sports Director Jay Howard, who is in his fourth season calling the action. He is a two-time winner of the AP's "Top Play-by-Play Man Award" for the state of Texas.

Howard has been with WOAI for 10 years. As Sports Director, he oversees all operations and delivers morning and evening drive sportscasts along with a nightly talk show. He also hosts the popular "Inside the Spurs" show which airs every Saturday on the station throughout the season.

A native of New York and a graduate of Wichita State with a degree in broadcast journalism, Howard has previous experience in both St. Louis and Chicago. Howard and his wife, Shellie, have two daughters, Andrea and Carly and live in San Antonio.

This will be the 17th time in 20 years that the Spurs will have all 90 games (pre-season and regular season) and the playoffs aired on WOAI "Sports Leader for the Great Southwest".

Assisting Howard with the Spurs halftime show is Mitch Hyder, who joined the station from KYBG in Denver last spring.

In addition to WOAI, Spurs games can also be heard on the Spurs Basketball Network. This season the network includes: KEYS (1440 AM) in Corpus Christi, KURV (710 AM) in Edinburg, which serves the Rio Grande Valley, KLKE (1230 AM) in Del Rio, WWLS (640 AM) in Norman/Oklahoma City, KAKC (1300 AM) in Tulsa, Oklahoma and KLAR (1300 AM) in Laredo.

Armando Quintero

KSAH/720 AM

Armando Quintero is the most versatile and most widely recognized Spanish language play-by-play voice in America.

In his fifth season of Spurs basketball on KSAH-AM "Radio Festival", Quintero has already become the Spanish voice of the NBA. He has broadcast the last three NBA All-Star games and was selected to do the 1992 NBA Finals on NBA Radio over 13 stations coast to coast in the United States.

For the last 14 years, Quintero has been the Hispanic voice of the Dallas Cowboys, where he is heard over 10 stations in the U.S. and 20 stations in Mexico. He also serves as the play-by-play voice of the NFL playoffs and the Super Bowl for the CBS Hispanic Network.

Major League Baseball has also called upon Quintero. He is the play-by-play man for the all-star game, the League Championship Series on the MLB International Television Network in over 10 different countries around the world. He has also done baseball and football telecasts for ESPN International.

This past summer, he covered the Olympics for CBS English and Spanish radio. He has also been the baseball and basketball play-by-play "face and voice" for the Univision Television Network.

KSAH will air 86 Spurs games this season and any playoff games. Quintero has been the host and co-producer of "Arriba Spurs", the weekly 30-minute show that airs on Saturdays during the season on KWEX-TV.

A native of Muzquiz, Coahuila, Mexico, Quintero grew up in the Uvalde, Texas, area. He and his wife, Juanita, have three children – Armando, Jr., Julie and Brenda.

The Spurs On Television

Dave Barnett

KSAT-12

For the sixth year in succession, KSAT-12, San Antonio's local ABC affiliate, will bring Spurs basketball to fans in the South Texas area. Games will also be broadcast in Austin, Corpus Christi, Lubbock and the Rio Grande Valley. This year a total of 22 games are scheduled for broadcast. Action is scheduled to begin on Friday, November 6 at Sacramento.

Veteran sportscaster Dave Barnett will call the play-by-play with Greg Simmons handling the color commentary. This will be Barnett's fifth season of Spurs basketball and he is quite familiar with NBA basketball from his work with the Spurs and seven years with the Dallas Mavericks. He has also broadcast major league baseball along with major college football and basketball. He is a native of Denton, Texas, and has also worked for WBAP Radio in Dallas.

Simmons, who also serves as sports director at KSAT-12, has been active in Spurs programming by working on The Spurs Report and The Spurs Monthly Magazine. The San Antonio native has been a member of the Spurs broadcast team for six years. He has worked in the broadcasting field for 22 years, including the last 12 at KSAT-12.

HSE

Home Sports Entertainment (HSE) will broadcast a total of 30 games in 1992-93, starting with a road game at Denver on Saturday, November 7. HSE telecast 30 games a year ago. HSE is located on Channel 23 on the cable dial.

Dave Barnett will describe the action with former Spurs forward, Coby Dietrick, a veteran of six ABA and seven NBA seasons, adding the color commentary. In addition to the Spurs, Dietrick also played with Memphis, Dallas and Chicago.

Greg Simmons

FIRST CHOICE/PAY-PER-VIEW

Rounding out the Spurs broadcast schedule in 1992-93 is a 23-game schedule on Paragon Cable's First Choice Pay-Per-View, Cable 98. Fans must have a Z-view converter to receive these games.

Dave Barnett will handle the play-by-play chores during the season and Coby Dietrick, former #25 for the Spurs, will join Barnett and offer his insight which he gathered from more than 12 years in pro basketball, including seven with the Spurs.

ADDITIONAL PROGRAMMING

The Spurs Report with Jerry Tarkanian — This 30-minute show with head coach Jerry Tarkanian will be telecast weekly on KSAT-12 starting on Saturday, October 24. Check local listings for air time.

Tickets/Group Sales

TICKET OUTLETS

The main Spurs ticket office is located in the arcade of the HemisFair Arena, near the Lila Cockrell Theater...this is the area used to sell tickets on game nights.

Spurs fans coming to the Arena to purchase game tickets between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. should use the HemisFair Garage and ticket office personnel will validate your parking ticket for up to one hour of free parking when the time is related to Spurs business.

The ticket office mailing address is 600 E. Market, Suite 102, San Antonio, Texas 78205. The telephone number is (210) 554-7787.

Spurs game tickets continue to be computerized which means tickets to any game on the 45-game schedule can be purchased at any time.

Again this year, Spurs game tickets are being sold at all Rainbow Ticketmaster outlets in San Antonio and the surrounding area to include Sound Warehouse, Drug Emporium, and the following military installations – Kelly A.F.B. Rec. Center, Ft. Sam Houston Outdoor Rec. Center, Randolph A.F.B. Tickets and Tours Office, and the Lackland A.F.B. ITT.

Additionally, Spurs game tickets are on sale in surrounding cities: Sound Warehouse, Craig's Record Factory in Corpus Christi, Seguin's Sports West; and the University of Texas Ticketmaster outlets in Austin, San Marcos and New Braunfels, as well as all Rainbow Ticketmaster outlets in Dallas/Ft. Worth, Houston & El Paso.

HOW TO PURCHASE TICKETS

The Spurs ticket office opens at 9 a.m. Monday through Friday, and 10 a.m. – on days of weekend games. The Spurs main ticket office utilizes walkup windows in the Arena arcade.

Spurs game tickets can be ordered by mail and it is suggested that mail orders be in hand at least 14 days in advance of a particular contest. That allows for accurate handling.

Tickets can be purchased with cash, money order or charged with Mastercards, VISA cards or with American Express cards by calling 1-800-749-9494.

The Spurs ticket office telephone number (210) 554-7787.

TICKET PRICES

The HemisFair Arena has two levels. The lower level has tickets priced at $20. The upper level of the Arena has tickets priced at $17, $13 and $10. All seats in all price ranges are subject to availability at a particular game.

GROUP BONUS NIGHTS

The Spurs are offering Group Bonus Nights again this season. With a limited number of exceptions, all games on the Spurs home schedule will be available for group rates; group seats can be purchased in the $20, $17, $13 and $10 sections.

The discount depends on the size of the group – the number of tickets purchased. Rate breaks come with a minimum of 25.

Group sales information is easily available by telephoning the Spurs Administrative office at (210) 554-7787 ext. 7738 or 7739. A Spurs sales representative will provide available games and locations, and will distribute group sales brochures. Again, these seats are subject to availability on the game nights desired.

Spurs Administration

Red McCombs/Owner

Red McCombs became full owner of the San Antonio Spurs on May 27, 1988, when he purchased the franchise from his fellow investors.

McCombs realized that he would have to roll up his sleeves and go to work if this franchise was going to be competitive on the basketball floor and at the box office.

McCombs' first priority was to organize a winning team in the front office. He did this by making longtime associate Gary Woods, President, Russ Bookbinder, Executive Vice President, and by retaining Bob Bass to manage the basketball area as Vice President of Basketball Operations.

McCombs made headlines last April when he dipped into the college ranks to name Jerry Tarkanian, the most successful coach ever on the college level, as the Spurs new head coach. Tarkanian posted a 509-105 record in 19 seasons at UNLV, including a national title in 1990. In 24 seasons on the Division I level, Tarkanian had an outstanding 625-122 record, which is the best career winning percentage (.8367) in NCAA history.

"This is a significant step for our franchise, said McCombs, when announcing Tarkanian's appointment last April. "Jerry Tarkanian's coaching record is unequalled. But to me, equally important, was the fact that Coach Tark really wanted to coach this team. He knows something about the spirit that we have here in San Antonio since it is similar to the kind of involvement that he and his family had in Las Vegas. I can't tell you how elated I am that we have Tark. He is a great coach and a great human being."

To acquire the necessary talent to win, the Spurs have built their team through solid draft selections and by beneficial trades. The NBA Draft has produced three current Spurs starters in Willie Anderson, David Robinson, and Sean Elliott. Meanwhile, Bass orchestrated some very beneficial trades for the Spurs over the past three seasons. A Spurs team that had only won 21 games in the '88- '89 season, is now ready to be a force in the nineties.

As McCombs has always stated, "We're making every move toward winning an NBA championship. Hopefully, that goal will be recognized because the Spurs have never stood still."

This will be the fifth season that the native of Spur, Texas has owned the team and each new season has had a few more challenges than the one before. In fact, the whole association that Red has had with the Spurs has been interesting.

The Spurs first came to San Antonio in the Spring of 1973 after having operated in Dallas as the Chaparrals in the ABA. McCombs led the move to acquire the team and the major investor and the team's first President. Once the team was in San Antonio, McCombs' heart never left the franchise, but he took the opportunity to become the sole owner of the Denver Nuggets. Red owned the team from 1982 to 1985, and after revitalizing that franchise and selling it, he was able to return to the Spurs as a majority investor.

From the beginning, McCombs was joined as a Spurs investor by his wife of 42 years, Charline. Charline is an avid basketball fan and Red says that it is Charline who gets most worked up for games.

"Charline is by far the most active Spurs fan in the family," said McCombs. "She can't eat on game days and has a hard time sleeping after the games. If it was up to Charline, she would like to travel to every road game as well. As it is, the two of us get to see about a quarter of the road games."

Red and Charline are not alone in their love of basketball and the Spurs. Their three daughters are all investors in the Spurs — Lynda McCombs, Connie McNab and Marsha Shields. In fact, even Red's grandson, Carson, has been a Spurs ballboy for the past two seasons.

"This franchise has had to work harder than any other in the league," said McCombs. "We have had to keep pace with the growing economics of the NBA in the NBA's smallest market. However, we have developed solid corporate sponsors, who without their help, we couldn't be in business. We have also tried to offer our fans the most entertainment for their dollar and they have responded. We had 81 sellouts the past two seasons. We expect an even better '92-93."

But the McCombs history does not begin with just basketball. McCombs was born in Spur, Texas in 1927. After attending public schools there, he went to Southwestern University and then moved on to the University of Texas at Austin.

In 1950, he moved to Corpus Christi to enter the automobile field, Ford cars to be specific. Red has been involved in the automotive industry ever since. And it was in Corpus that McCombs first became involved in sports.

First, it was midget auto racing on a quarter mile track in Corpus Christi in 1951. Then, there were the contracts of a couple of boxers, and then in 1953, there was the Corpus Christi Clippers of the Class B Big State Baseball league.

McCombs has also been a big booster of the orange and white of UT and he has helped recruit many athletes to the University and served as President of the Texas Longhorn Club.

In fact, in his loyalty to the Longhorns, it was McCombs who helped bring UT basketball to San Antonio last February. On Sunday, February 16th, 1992, the University of Texas played the University of Georgia in the first H-E-B Longhorn Showdown in the HemisFair Arena.

McCombs has been a resident of San Antonio since 1958 and he has been actively involved in the community.

McCombs has been recognized for his many community activities including Chairman of the Greater Chamber of Commerce and the United Way.

Gary Woods/President

For more than a decade, Gary Woods has been President of McCombs Enterprises, the holding entity for the McCombs family investments, with headquarters in San Antonio. He is now into his fifth year as President of the Spurs organization.

He became President of the Spurs at the time the McCombs organization purchased the franchise in May of 1988. In October of that same year, Woods moved into an ownership position with 15 percent of the team.

At that time, he compared the operation of a sports team and other business operations. "There are a number of differences and a number of similarities between running a sports franchise and any other business. The big difference, of course, is that the sports franchise is so publicly attuned with the fans and with the media. Your business decisions regarding players and tickets are in the spotlight."

Over the course of his Spurs presidency, Woods has become keenly aware of the similarities and differences and he has a firm hand in all phases of the team's progress. He has been involved in the formation of both a coaching staff and a roster of players, including contracts. He has played a major role in the team's marketing programs and in the formation of the not-for-profit Spurs Foundation, the team's charitable arm.

"The similarities in business and in sports are in that you are offering a product for sale," he said, "and you have to establish a desirable product and create the right environment to encourage its purchase."

His first involvement with major league sports came from 1982 to 1985 when McCombs owned the NBA's Denver Nuggets. "The big difference," he said, "the Spurs are in our home town."

Born in Lockhart, Texas, in 1943, Woods is a Certified Public Accountant and holds a certification in data processing. He is a graduate of Southwest Texas State University and he holds a master's degree from Southern Methodist University. Both degrees are in business administration. He also has completed the Advanced Management Program at Harvard Business School.

From 1965 to 1970, Woods held several accounting and financial management positions in the Dallas corporate offices of Texas Instruments. In 1971, he moved to San Antonio as the chief financial officer for Associated Milk Producers. It was during his four years there that he became acquainted with McCombs and his varied business holdings.

After his time at AMPI, Woods worked as chief financial officer for Wainoco Oil Corporation in Houston from 1975 through 1978.

Moving back to San Antonio with McCombs Enterprises, Woods began overseeing investments which now include 30 automobile dealerships, oil and gas operations, real estate holdings, broadcast outlets in both radio and television, ranching and many other areas of the business world.

Active in numerous professional organizations and societies in the fields of business, accounting and finance, Woods regularly attends seminars in those disciplines both as a student and as an instructor.

Among his current community and civic activities, Woods is a member of the boards of directors of the San Antonio Greater Chamber of Commerce, Alamo Area Council of Boy Scouts of America, KLRN and several other organizations. He also serves on the board of Titan Holdings, Inc.

Woods and his wife Glenda are the parents of son, Mark, a student at the University of Houston, and a daughter, Kristin, a student at Syracuse University.

Bob Bass/VP of Basketball Operations

During his 18 seasons with the San Antonio Spurs, Bob Bass has had several different job titles. But throughout his career with the Spurs, Bass has had one mission—working to make the Spurs a winner.

Bass stepped back into his role as Vice President of Basketball Operations in April following the end of the 1991-92 season which saw him start the year in his present role and finish with the added duties as head coach. Bass took over the reins of the club in January following the departure of Larry Brown. He directed the team to a 26-18 record and a playoff berth.

It was Bass' fourth stint as the Spurs head man, and in his five seasons, he has turned in a 144-108 record with the Spurs.

Bass first came to the Spurs in December of 1974 as the head coach for the Spurs, who at that time, were in the ABA. That season the Spurs finished with a 51-33 mark, including a 34-23 record with Bass as the head man. Bass continued in his role as the head coach during the 1975-76 season, leading the Spurs to a 50-34 record and their second straight playoff appearance.

In May of 1976, Bass made his move to the front office, serving as the assistant to Spurs President Angelo Drossos. Bass spent the 1976-77 season in the front office and then found himself back in the coaching ranks in the 1977-78 season. That season, he served not only as the Assistant to the President, but also as an assistant coach for Spurs head man Doug Moe. Bass served in that job title for the next season as well.

But for the 1979-80 season, Bass again was given a new title, being named the Spurs General Manager in August of 1979. During the '79-80 season, Bass got his second go-round as the Spurs head man when he replaced Doug Moe on March 1. That season the Spurs were 41-41 overall, with an 8-8 mark under Bass.

In the summer of 1980, the Spurs hired Stan Albeck and with that move, Bass returned to the front office, again serving as General Manager for the team. Bass remained in the role of GM until the 1983-84 season, when once again he became head coach, this time replacing Morris McHone on December 28. That season the Spurs were 26-25 with Bass, finishing with a 37-45 overall record.

Bass again returned to his role of General Manager for the 1984-85 season as the Spurs brought in Cotton Fitzsimmons as their head man. Bass remained as GM for several seasons until the summer of 1987 when he became the Spurs Vice President/General Manager. Midway through the '87-88 season, Bass' title was changed to Vice President of Basketball Operations.

Then in June of 1988, after Red McCombs purchased the team, Bass once again had his title changed, serving as the Assistant to the Chairman for McCombs. Bass remained as Assistant to the Chairman for the Spurs in the 1989- 90 season, and was honored that year as The Sporting News NBA Executive of the Year, as the Spurs won a club record 56 games.

In September of 1990, Bass again saw his title change, becoming the Spurs Vice President of Basketball Operations. That was the title that Bass held until January 21, 1992 when he added the title of head coach to his current title of Vice President of Basketball Operations.

Bass started his coaching career in the high school ranks, spending two seasons at Cromwell High School in Oklahoma. There his teams finished with a 59-38 mark. In 1952, Bass made his first big move, going to Oklahoma Baptist University, where he spent his next 15 years. In that time, his teams went 275-143, winning six conference titles and making six trips to the NAIA tournament. In 1966, the Bisons won the NAIA title and Bass was named NAIA Coach of the Year.

After that, Bass got his first call from the pros, going to Denver for the 1967-68 season. Bass also spent the 1968-69 season with Denver, compiling an 89-67 mark in his two seasons in the ABA.

Bass then returned to the college ranks in 1969, spending a season and a half with Texas Tech with a 22-15 mark, before returning to the ABA. This time Bass hooked on with the Miami Floridians starting in the 1970-71 season. In a season and a half with Miami, Bass' teams posted a 55-65 record. From there Bass went to Memphis, coaching the Tams to a 24-60 mark in the 1972-73 season.

Bass took a year off from coaching in the 1973-74 season, serving as the director of referees for the ABA. In the summer of 1974, Bass made his move to the Spurs, and the rest, as they say, is history.

Bass, who was born on January 28, 1929, is married to Pat, who he met while he was a student at Oklahoma Baptist. They have two sons, Kelly and Kip.

Russ Bookbinder

Executive Vice President

Russ Bookbinder serves as chief operating officer of the Spurs and is now in his fifth season with the club. His duties as the club's Executive Vice President center on the management of a 50-person staff involved in broadcasting, marketing, media services, community relations, accounting, promotions, ticket sales, retail merchandising, and game night operations.

During the past four seasons, the Spurs attendance has increased from 8,000 per night to sellout crowds averaging over 16,000 fans. The Spurs have also developed the most extensive broadcast programming operation in the NBA and maintain a regional radio and television network covering the South Texas Area.

Upon his arrival in San Antonio, Bookbinder initiated the development of the non-profit Spurs Foundation. The Foundation has generated over $500,000 for area youth programs. In addition, the Spurs have established programs targeted to motivate students in the areas of self-worth, attendance, and drug and substance abuse education.

"We believe that the Spurs have an unequaled platform to help send the right messages and support to our youth," said Bookbinder. It is a tremendous responsibility that we take very seriously. The efforts we make in this area are a sound business investment in the future of San Antonio."

Even with the success the Spurs have enjoyed, Bookbinder feels that the greatest challenges and opportunities still await the organization.

"There are so many opportunities ahead of us. The move to the Alamodome is going to be a positive step for the Spurs, but it will require precise planning and implementation to be successful for our staff, team and fans," said Bookbinder. "The expanded seating capacity, luxury suites, Stadium Club and upgraded amenities for the fans will be a welcome addition to our operation. Our main focus will be the continued emphasis on customer satisfaction. We must fully understand the needs and desires of our fans and strive to meet these expectations at every level of our operation. The only way for us to stay healthy in the NBA's smallest market and meet the increasing costs related to our business, is to provide the highest quality entertainment product and keep adding to our existing base of customer support."

Since coming to San Antonio, Bookbinder has been very involved in helping to enhance the sports industry in the Alamo City through his work on the executive committee of the San Antonio Sports Foundation. He has played a major role in the creation of the Alamo Bowl post-season collegiate football classic, and the relocation of numerous Southwest Conference football and basketball events to San Antonio.

Born and raised in Florida, and a graduate of the University of Florida, Bookbinder's first contact with the business of professional sports took place in his position as Western Regional Manager for Professional Sports Publications. He has eleven years of experience in the NBA, serving in top marketing and management positions with the Dallas Mavericks (1980-1983), San Diego Clippers (1983-1984), and the Denver Nuggets (1984-1986). Prior to joining the Spurs, Bookbinder was the Director of Corporate Development for the North Carolina-based collegiate television network and syndicator, Raycom Sports. He also managed Raycom's southwest regional offices headquartered in Dallas.

Bookbinder also serves on the Executive Committee for the Local Organizing Committee for the 1993 Olympic Festival. He is a member of the board of directors for the San Antonio chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society and is on the finance committee for the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

Bookbinder is married to the former Tammy Teaff, whose father, Grant, is the Head Football Coach and Athletic Director at Baylor University. They have two children, a six-year-old son, Josh, and a three-year-old daughter, Jessy.

JERRY TARKANIAN/HEAD COACH

Jerry Tarkanian comes to the San Antonio Spurs as one of the most successful coaches in college basketball history. In 24 seasons at the Division I level, Tarkanian posted an outstanding 625-122 record for a winning percentage of .837, the best ever in the Division I ranks.

The 625 victories placed Tarkanian second on the all-time winning list among active college coaches behind North Carolina's Dean Smith. He averaged 26 wins per year in 24 years on the major college level and he failed to win 20 or more games only twice in 31 years in the college ranks.

Tarkanian's winning percentage put him on top of a prestigious list of current and former college coaches who fill the second through fifth spots. Just behind Tarkanian are such legends as Clair Bee (.826), Adolph Rupp (.822), John Wooden (.804) and current UNC head coach Dean Smith (.772). And now, Tark is ready to bring his winning ways to the NBA.

Before coming to San Antonio on April 15, 1992, Tarkanian spent 31 seasons in the college ranks, including the last 24 on the Division I level. During that time, he put together a career record of 837-148, for a winning percentage of .850.

A success on every level in which he has coached, Tark became a legend during his 19 seasons at the University of Nevada at Las Vegas. Tarkanian took the position on March 23, 1973 and, the rest as they say, is history. In his 19 seasons at the helm, the Runnin' Rebels were 509-105. His teams made 14 trips to post- season tournaments, including four trips to the NCAA Final Four.

The 1989-90 season was perhaps the greatest in UNLV history. Tarkanian led UNLV to a 35-5 record and a 103-73 win over the Duke Blue Devils in the NCAA Championship game, bringing the ultimate title in college basketball to UNLV for the first time in the school's history.

The next season, the Runnin' Rebels were gunning for a repeat, but were knocked off by Duke in the Final Four semifinals. Still, Tark's 1990-91 team may be among the greatest in college basketball history, finishing with a 34-1 record and with four All-Americans in Larry Johnson, Stacey Augmon, Greg Anthony and Anderson Hunt. Tark's teams also made trips to the Final Four in 1977 and in 1987. During his UNLV tenure, Tark had 37 players drafted into the NBA, including nine chosen in the first round. Some of those were Ricky Sobers, Reggie Theus, Sidney Green, Armon Gilliam and Anthony Jones along with three first rounders in 1991 — Larry Johnson, Stacey Augmon and Greg Anthony.

Of course, Tarkanian had put together an impressive coaching resume before going to UNLV in 1973. Before that, he spent five seasons at Long Beach State University, compiling a 116-17 record there. In those five seasons, he put Long Beach State on the basketball map, making four straight trips to the NCAA Tournament. During his entire stay there, his teams never lost a home game, winning 65 straight games.

Tark's coaching career began in 1956 when he was named the head coach at San Joaquin Memorial High School in Fresno, California. From there he went to Antelope Valley High School in Lancaster, California in 1958, and then moved to Redlands High School in 1959.

He made the jump to college ball in 1961 when was named head coach at Riverside City College in California. His first season at the junior college was tough, as Tark's team went 14-13, which is the worst season ever turned in by one of his teams. But things quickly changed. In his next four seasons at Riverside, the Tark posted a 131-9 record, winning four straight California junior college championships. In the 1963-64 season, his team was a perfect 35-0. Following the 1965-66 season, Tarkanian moved to Pasadena City College, where his teams were 67-4 in two seasons. From Pasadena he went to Long Beach State for the 1968-69 season. In his brief stay in the junior college ranks, Tarkanian left his mark. In his seven seasons, his teams were 212-26 for a .891 winning percentage, which is the best career percentage ever recorded at the junior college level.

Jerry Tarkanian was born on August 8, 1930 in Euclid, Ohio. After growing up in Ohio, he went west for college, attending Pasadena City College before graduating from Fresno State in 1955. While at Fresno State, Tarkanian played guard on the Bulldog basketball team, and - by his own admission - he was an average player. From there he went to Redlands University, where he received his master's degree in educational management.

JERRY TARKANIAN

Tarkanian has also been a winner off the court throughout his coaching career, as he has spent endless hours helping out a variety of charitable causes. He was named the Man of the Year by the Las Vegas Kidney Foundation and was selected the Man of the Year by Women at Work for his humanitarian service with the organization. He has served on the Board of Director's for the Special Olympics in Las Vegas and also served as Chairman of Fund Raising for the Opportunity Village, a Las Vegas charity which benefits handicapped children. Last year, he was honored by the City of Hope in Los Angeles as its Man of the Year. He was elected to the Long Beach Athletic Hall of Fame and he was honored by the California State Legislature for his success as a college head coach. And he was recognized by the National Alliance of Black Universities for his work with black student-athletes. Last spring, he was honored by being named an honorary lifetime member of the Black Coaches Association for his contributions to blacks and minority athletes on and off the court. Tark is also a member of the Pasadena CC and Fresno State Halls of Fame.

He and his wife, Dr. Lois Tarkanian, a member of the Clark County School Board in Nevada, have four children – Pamela, Jodie, Danny and George and three grandchildren. Spurs fans may remember his son, Danny, who played for his dad, and is second on the all-time assists list at UNLV. He was picked by San Antonio in the eighth round of the 1984 NBA Draft. Danny is now an attorney in Las Vegas. George is an assistant basketball coach at Antelope Valley College in Lancaster, California.

Ron Adams/Assistant Coach

Ron Adams begins his first season with the Spurs following a long and varied background on the collegiate and international level. This will be his first venture into the NBA.

Most recently, the 44-year-old Adams was an assistant coach at Drake University working with head coach Rudy Washington.

A 1969 graduate of Fresno Pacific College, Adams is no stranger to head coach Jerry Tarkanian. He served as a member of Tarkanian's staff during the 1990-91 season when the Rebels made it to the Final Four in Indianapolis. Adams worked as a defensive specialist with Tarkanian and played a role in UNLV posting a 34-1 record.

Adams and Tarkanian also faced each other as head coaches when Adams served as head coach at Fresno State from 1986-90. The two met several times during that period as members of the Big West Conference. Prior to becoming head coach at Fresno State, Adams was an assistant at Fresno State under Boyd Grant from 1981-86. One of the team's top players during that span was the Sixers, Ron Anderson.

He also has additional experience as an assistant coach at U.S. International and UC-Santa Barbara and was the head coach at Fresno Pacific College from 1972-75. In addition, Adams served two seasons as the head coach of the Sunair Basketball Club in Oostende, Belgium from 1978-80 and led the club to the Cup of Belgium.

He and his wife, Leah Ogden, have a son, Jerid.

Rex Hughes/Assistant Coach

Another new face on the San Antonio staff is Rex Hughes, who joined the club in June following a two-year stay at Sacramento, first as an assistant coach and then as the interim head coach.

Hughes joined the Kings in 1990 as an assistant under Dick Motta and remained in that role until becoming the interim head coach of the club in December, 1991. He led the Kings to a 22-35 record in his 57 games as head coach.

The Hermoso Beach, California, native is a 1961 graduate of Pepperdine University where he played basketball for three seasons.

His association with head coach Jerry Tarkanian dates back to the 1960's when the two were coaching in the Southern California area.

Hughes began his career as head coach at Redondo Beach High School in 1964 and remained there four years before becoming head coach at Long Beach City College. After one season there, he became an assistant for two years each at Nebraska and USC before becoming head coach at Kent State in 1974. He led the Golden Flashes for four seasons before moving into the pro ranks.

Hughes became head coach and general manager of the Montana Sky of the Western Basketball Association for a brief period before joining Tarkanian as an assistant at UNLV in 1980.

After a stint in private business, Hughes returned to the basketball ranks in 1987 as a scout with Sacramento and Atlanta, serving as the chief scout for the latter for one season (1989-90). He returned to the Kings as an assistant coach the next year.

The 53-year-old Hughes is married. He and his wife, Patti, have two sons, Jeff and Rich. Rich plays basketball at Cal State-Dominguez Hills.

Tom Thibodeau/Assistant Coach

Head coach Jerry Tarkanian rounded out his new coaching staff in July when he tabbed Tom Thibodeau for the final opening on the staff.

The 34-year-old Thibodeau has previous NBA coaching experience with the Minnesota Timberwolves, where he spent two seasons (1989-91) working under head coach Bill Musselman. Among his duties with the club were practice planning, advance scouting work, working on game plans and helping prepare for the annual NBA Draft. He was also involved in working with players on an individual basis and assisting with the team's film exchange with the other 26 clubs in the league.

During the past season, he worked for a number of NBA clubs, performing advanced scouting and personnel duties. Among the teams were Seattle, New Jersey, Utah and the Los Angeles Clippers.

The native of New Britain, Connecticut, was an assistant coach at Harvard University for four seasons before joining the Timberwolves. He joined the Crimson staff in 1985 after serving the previous year as head coach at Salem State College in Massachusetts. He began his coaching career as an assistant at the school following his graduation in 1981. He was a member of the Dean's List as an undergraduate.

Thibodeau, who is single, also holds a master's degree in counseling from Salem State which he received in 1983.

Ed Manning/Scout

Manning enters his fifth season with the Spurs but this is not Manning's first campaign through the NBA.

Manning attended Jackson State University and earned his bachelor's degree while playing basketball. Upon graduation, Manning was drafted by the NBA's Baltimore Bullets, where he played for three years. Manning was then traded to Chicago, but did not play in the Windy City because Portland claimed Manning off the Chicago roster in the expansion draft of 1970.

After a year in Portland, he headed for the ABA and the Carolina Cougars, where Larry Brown was the head coach. That next season, Manning's Cougars posted a 57-27 mark, which was the best in professional basketball that season. Manning made three more stops in New York, Indiana and Belgium before he decided to call it quits.

In 1977, Manning began his coaching career at North Carolina A&T and he has been involved in coaching ever since. He was an assistant coach at Kansas in 1988 when the Jayhawks won the National Championship.

The 48-year-old Manning is a native of Summit, Mississippi, and he and his wife, Darnelle, are the parents of two children: Danny and Dawn. Danny is in his fifth year with the Los Angeles Clippers.

John Andersen/Trainer/Team Travel

John Andersen came to the Spurs organization in the summer of 1981 and became only the second trainer that the franchise has had. Andersen is now set for his 12th year in professional basketball.

Before moving to San Antonio, he was the trainer for the Seattle Sounders of the North American Soccer League. He spent five years with that team.

Andersen holds a bachelor's degree in physical education from Washington State University and a master's degree in physical therapy from Stanford University.

His work experience included working at both of those universities' athletic departments and at the University of Washington before becoming associated with professional sports.

A native of Spokane, Washington, Andersen is past chairman of the National Basketball Trainers Association.

In addition to his training and physical care duties for the Spurs players, Andersen is responsible for all travel planning, which includes air, ground and hotel arrangements.

At 44-years-old, Andersen is an accomplished judge of South Texas chili. Among his likes and loves are Texas jalapeno peppers, classical music, photography, the Chicago Cubs and golf.

Andersen had a hole-in-one in July of 1986, but his greatest golf talent is his collection of logoed golf balls. Andersen's collection has now grown to over 400 and he is now specializing in corporate logos and golf courses.

He and his wife, Belinda, live in San Antonio.

Lawrence Payne/Vice President of Broadcasting

As Vice President of Broadcasting, Lawrence Payne is responsible for all aspects of Spurs Broadcasting. Lawrence serves as Executive Producer of all radio, television and in-Arena programming produced by the team and its subsidiaries. This not only includes the game broadcasts on KSAT-12 TV, WOAI (1200 AM) and KSAH (720 AM, Spanish), but other programming as well. The Spurs, through its production/video arm of Spurs Broadcasting, produce more sports programming than any other sports franchise. A total of 12 different radio and television programs are produced on a year-round basis. Payne also oversees the existing Spurs multi-state Radio Network as well as the Spurs Regional Television Network which will include affiliates in Austin, Corpus Christi and the Rio Grande Valley.

If this is not enough to keep him busy, Payne is responsible for all aspects of sponsorship sales and promotions, overseeing the operation of the JumboTRON, the production of special Spurs video projects, such as the season highlight video, and all aspects of the Spurs Pay-Per-View operations.

Payne joined the Spurs in July, 1976, after obtaining a bachelor's and law degree from the University of Texas at Austin. He began in program advertising sales and has seen his duties continue to expand. They have included producing the game program (76-78), editing the Spurs weekly newspaper (77-78) and serving as the producer for Spurs television broadcasts (79-82). Payne also was responsible for guiding the Spurs into new and expanded broadcasting ventures. This included operation of the Spurs Sports Channel (82-89) as well as negotiating cable sports pay-per-view events for Rogers cable.

Payne's involvement with television and the Spurs brought him several honors including two national ACE Awards, the Silver Medal at the International Film and Television festival of New York and local Addy Awards.

Lawrence has been married to his wife, Mary, for the past 13 years. He is the father of two sons, eight-year-old Bryan, and four-year-old Will. The Paynes enjoy all aspects of sports, especially snow skiing.

Bruce Guthrie/Director of Marketing

Bruce Guthrie began his career with the Spurs in July of 1982 as an Account Executive and has been handling the duties of Director of Marketing for the past six seasons.

As the Director of Marketing, Guthrie is responsible for developing and implementing the marketing and advertising plan for season, group and individual tickets, coordination of special events and supervising all elements of game night operations. It is also Guthrie's responsibility to coordinate and implement all promotions within the Arena and the general market. Guthrie was honored by the Sales and Marketing Executives of San Antonio with the 1990 Distinguished Sales and Marketing Award for his work with the Spurs.

Guthrie is an Illinois native and graduated from Western Illinois University with a master's degree in sports management.

He is married, and he and his wife Carla are the proud parents of a four- year-old son, Zachary. In his free time, Guthrie enjoys all sports, especially golf. He is also a member of the American Marketing Association and the Sales and Marketing Executives of San Antonio.

Joe Clark/Director of Sales

Joe Clark is responsible for the direction and supervision of all ticket sales efforts for the Spurs, which includes season tickets, group sales and special event nights. Clark also oversees the Corporate/Luxury Suite and club seat sales for the Alamodome. In addition, Clark will be directing the transition of all current season ticket holders to the Alamodome for the 1993- 94 season. The Customer Service department has also come under the direction of Clark as the Spurs continue to try to provide first class service to their fans. He also assists in the marketing efforts of the Spurs throughout the local community as well as the outer markets.

On game nights, Clark is responsible for the supervision of downtown traffic flow, security, promotional giveaway nights and promotional contests.

It has been eight years since he has graduated from the University of Wisconsin and began his first job at the Spurs as a sales intern. Clark received an undergraduate degree in economics at Wisconsin and a master's degree in sports management from Western Illinois in 1985.

When it comes time to relax, Clark will be playing golf, tennis, or a pick-up-game of basketball. Clark is a member of the SME of San Antonio.

Clark is married to Linda, who is employed with Bank One.

Dave Senko/Director of Media Services

Dave Senko is in his first year as the Director of Media Services for the Spurs. He joined the staff in May following three years at the University of Washington where he served as the Assistant Athletic Director for Public and Media Relations.

He and his staff handle the daily contact with both the local and national media for the organization. These duties include writing press releases and game notes, hosting media on game nights, and writing, editing and overseeing a number of clubs publications, including the media guide, game program and the Fast Breakin' newsletter which is published 10 times a year.

During his stay at Washington, Senko worked closely with the Huskies' 1991 national championship football team and participated in three bowl games, including two Rose Bowl victories. During his tenure, running back Greg Lewis won the inaugural Doak Walker Award, and defensive tackle Steve Emtman won both the Outland Trophy and Lombardi Award as well as being a Heisman Trophy finalist. He was also involved with the 1991 NCAA Men's West Regional and the 1989 Final Four held in Seattle.

Senko spent seven years (1982-88) with the Buffalo Bills public relations staff, including three years as the Director of Media Relations, before moving to Washington. His other experience includes work as the sports information director at Holy Cross College, Bowling Green State University and also as an assistant SID at Yale University.

A native of Johnson City, New York, he graduated from the University of Hawaii. He also has a master's degree in athletic administration from Ohio State.

He and his wife, Gail, a cognitive psychologist, live in San Antonio. In his free time, he enjoys travelling and has made nine ventures to Europe.

Kenton Nelson/Retail Merchandising Manager

Kenton Nelson is in his third year with the Spurs as the Retail Merchandising Manager. His responsibilities with the Spurs are: complete supervision of all souvenir sales including, The Spurs Shop, the souvenir stands inside the Hemisfair Arena and the Spurs Fan Wagons, located in San Antonio malls.

Nelson attended Northwestern Oklahoma State University on a baseball scholarship, majoring in psychology and physical education.

During his free time, you will find Kenton on the golf course at Sonterra, hunting, fishing, or adding to his baseball and basketball card collection.

Nelson is also involved in the 1993 U.S. Olympic Festival which will be held in San Antonio. Nelson will be in charge of the designing of all merchandise for the festival and the distribution of all merchandise. Kenton is a member of the National Sporting Goods Association and is married. His wife, Monica, is working towards her education degree.

Alison Roach/Directory of Community Relations

Alison Roach begins her first year as the Director of Community Relations for the Spurs following two years as the Assistant Director of Marketing for the Fiesta Bowl in Tempe, Arizona.

In her role with the Spurs, Roach will be the club's primary liaison with the community, especially schools and non-profit organizations. One of her major projects is the Spurs Foundation, a non-profit arm of the Spurs which generates goodwill and financial support for a variety of children's charities in the San Antonio area. In addition, she handles appearances for players, coaches and the Spurs Coyote.

She is a native of Omaha, Nebraska and a graduate of the University of Southern California. Prior to joining the Fiesta Bowl in 1990, Roach spent nearly nine years in the public relations, advertising and marketing field in the Phoenix area.

In her spare time, she enjoys sports, reading, cooking and travelling, along with spending time with her pets which include a dog, two cats and a bird, so far.

She is engaged to Derrick Fox, Executive Director of the Alamo Bowl, and is looking forward to her February wedding.

Julie Daleiden/Controller

As controller for the San Antonio Spurs, Julie Daleiden has the responsibility of handling the day-to-day financial aspects of the company, which include cash disbursements, management of financial statements, payroll and cash management.

Daleiden graduated from the University of Illinois in 1984 with a degree in accounting. She is a certified public accountant and has been a licensed member of the Texas State Society of Certified Public Accountants in San Antonio since 1985.

Daleiden has been a member of the Spurs team for the last three years. In her spare time, she is a sports enthusiast who likes to play golf, tennis and loves to watch basketball. Her other interests include involvement in youth and church activities.

Daleiden and her fiance, Peter, are busy with plans for their June wedding.

Jeanne Adams/Ticket Office Manager

As the Spurs ticket office manager, Jeanne Adams oversees the following aspects of the ticket office: renewals, new sales, group sales, account payments, individual game ticket sales, and ticket sales involving special events.

Adams began her career with the Spurs on a part-time basis in 1983 when she worked as an usher. She continually helped the Spurs by typing the play-by-play at games, selling season tickets, or helping in the front office. In 1987, she became assistant ticket manager and in June 1989, took over the role of ticket office manager.

Adams and her husband, Richard, have been Spurs season ticket holders since the old ABA days. She has two sons; Jeff, 25, who is married and has a seven-year-old son, and Buddy, 19, who is a freshman at Hill College.

Adams is a fanatic Brahma booster because she and both her sons graduated from MacArthur. In her spare time, Adams loves to read and has her own ceramic business. She likes biographical and historical novels and she can finish one in three days.

1991-1992 Review

October 12, 1991
The San Antonio Spurs began the 1991 pre-season on the road in Cleveland. The Spurs were looking at this game from an educational standpoint because Coach Brown wanted to look hard at a few of the newcomers. This group included Kevin Pritchard, Steve Bardo, Paul Mokeski, Tom Copa and Tom Garrick. Out of this group, Mokeski led the way with 11 points. The Spurs got behind early (29-39 after the first quarter) and were playing catch-up all night. Two bright spots in the Spurs motion offense were Sean Elliott and Willie Anderson, who each scored 19 points.

October 15, 1991
The Spurs make their first home appearance of the 1991 pre-season in grand style. Larry Brown's new offense is up and running as the Spurs glide to a 121-113 win. Leading the way for the Spurs was Sean Higgins, who had 19 points and seven assists. Also in double figures were Sidney Green (15 pts.), Willie Anderson (13 pts.), Sean Elliott (12 pts.) and David Robinson with (11 pts.). The top scorer for Dallas was Derek Harper with 15.

October 18, 1991
The Spurs are at home to face the Detroit Pistons and David Robinson, who is suffering from a case of shingles, emotionally leads his team to a 122-111 win. With Robinson's defensive help, the Spurs jump out to a 40-29 first quarter lead and never look back. Robinson had 18 points and 4 blocks in 29 minutes, but it was Sean Elliott who was the leading Spurs' scorer with 21 points in 25 minutes. Isiah Thomas led the Pistons with 25 points.

October 20, 1991
Larry Brown's motion offense was up and running against the Houston Rockets as the Spurs jumped out to a 35-20 first quarter lead that the team never relinquished in the 114-103 win. The Spurs shot 63% from the floor in the first quarter and 50% for the game. It was another classic David vs Hakeem game, as both players went after one another. Hakeem finished with 19 points, 10 rebounds and 6 blocks and David had 18 points, 14 rebounds, and 4 blocks. Houston's leading scorer was Vernon Maxwell with 35 points. The Spurs almost let a 22-point halftime lead slip away as the Rockets outscored the Spurs 34-21 in the third.

October 22, 1991
In a first round game against the Milwaukee Bucks at the GTE Everything Pages Shootout at The Forum, the Spurs scored only 18 fourth quarter points to the Bucks 30 and lost their second road game 110-102. The Spurs are 3-0 at home and 0-2 on the road this pre-season. Terry Cummings was the leading scorer for the Spurs with 21 points in 26 minutes. Alvin Robertson of the Bucks scored 19.

October 23, 1991
Well, the Spurs left The Forum without a win this year at the GTE Everything Pages Shootout. A 13-point halftime lead was washed away as the Celtics went on a 33-22 third quarter run to win the game 115-112. The Spurs were outscored by 11 and 5 in the second half. The leaders for the Spurs were Anderson (19 points), Cummings (7 rebounds) and again Anderson (8 assists). This was not enough to stop Dee Brown who had 29 in 43 minutes and Larry Bird who had 25 in 42 minutes.

October 25, 1991
The Spurs were able to leave California having accomplished two goals. First, the Spurs managed to win their first road game of the pre-season by the score of 125-118 against the Clippers. Secondly, the Spurs were able to break a two-game losing streak in the LA Sports Arena from last season. David Robinson led the way with 26 points, 12 rebounds and 2 blocks.

October 27, 1991
The Spurs returned home to what they thought would be the friendly confines of the HemisFair Arena, only to find out that the New York Knicks would not let them win their fourth straight home game. The Spurs lost 98-91 after having just won one of three games on the West Coast trip. In a game that was supposed to be the David vs Patrick show, they were not the stars. Ewing had 18 points, 3 rebounds and 3 blocks and Robinson had 19 points, 7 rebounds and 4 blocks. Not a great game for either star center. It was Xavier McDaniel's 29 points that sparked the Knicks. Cummings had 27 for the Spurs.

November 1, 1991
The 1991-92 season opener. Spurs fans came early to the Arena to see the pre-game fireworks and laser light show and the team did the same once the game started. It was a 140-99 runaway for the Spurs as they buried the Mavericks one day after Halloween. The Spurs were sparked by David Robinson's 24 points in 22 minutes. All 12 Spurs players scored and the entire starting five were all in double figures. TC had a great evening rebounding with 16 boards.

November 3, 1991
The Spurs take their show on the road to Seattle, where the team is able to shake off their pre-season cobwebs and defeat the Sonics 106-98. Two stellar performances were turned in by David Robinson and Willie Anderson. Willie stepped it up a notch with 10 assists and Mr. Robinson could not be denied with 33 points and 7 blocks.

November 5, 1991
They saw victory slip through their hands in Denver as a 14-point lead was extinguished by former-Spur Reggie Williams with 24 points. The Spurs were leading 74-69 through three quarters and a 22-point effort in the fourth quarter was just not good enough. This was the Spurs first road loss of the season. The only bright spot was that Antoine Carr could not be stopped. He had 23 points to lead the team and Robinson looked liked himself with 15 rebounds.

November 6, 1991
The Spurs had a 20-minute closed door meeting before they tipped it up against the Blazers and the mistakes that were made the night before in Denver were not repeated. The Spurs jumped and ran all over the Blazers 119-93 as Sean Elliott took control of the game from the beginning with 28 points. Sean was 3-3 from the land of three. David Robinson was dunking his way to 25 points and he collected 10 rebounds.

1991-1992 Review

November 8, 1991
The Spurs were at home against the Cleveland Cavaliers and the Spurs had to rally with a 31-19 fourth quarter to tie the game at 97 at the end of regulation. In only the fifth game of the season, the Spurs were in OT and a 10- 4 run gave the team their fourth victory. Carr sparked the fourth quarter rally with 12 points, but Mr. Robinson had a night with 31 points, 11 rebounds and 4 blocks. Craig Ehlo led the Cavs with 29 points.

November 13, 1991
The Spurs dominance at home in the early stages of the season continues as David Robinson scores 24 points and Sean Elliott added 21 as the Spurs defeated the Clippers 107-93 and pushed their home record to 4-0. The Spurs were once again able to push themselves out of the pack in the fourth quarter as they outscored the Clippers 33-25. Los Angeles had a 5-2 record coming in and the Spurs gave them their first loss in Texas for the season. Elliott was also the team leader in rebounds (11) and assists (7).

November 16, 1991
The New York Knicks came to town for their only visit of the season and it was a game of split personalities. The Spurs could only manage 45 first half points, but the team came out after halftime and ignited the crowd with 61. The Spurs outscored New York 35-19 in the fourth to win 106-89. It was a team game as all five starters were in double figures with Cummings' 18 leading the way. Ewing had 20 points and 12 rebounds, but it was Robinson's 6 blocks that set the tone in the second half.

November 20, 1991
The Minnesota Timberwolves may be struggling with a 1-8 record, but they sure did not play like it. The Spurs were able to escape with their 6th consecutive win at home 113-106. The Wolves were led by Richardson's and Corbin's 23 points. Pooh also had 10 assists. The good news for the Spurs was their balanced attack. All five starters were in double figures with Robinson's 22 leading the way. AJ had a season high in points (15) and Anderson had a career high in assists (12 tied) and a season high in blocks (4 tied).

November 22, 1991
The Spurs two game West swing starts on a sour note. The Spurs 33-22 run in the fourth quarter was not enough to push past the Lakers. The Spurs lost 98-96. A third quarter, where the Spurs scored only 13 points, put the team in too big of a hole. Leaders for the game were Scott and Threatt for the Lakers with 18 points each. Sedale also had 8 assists and Divac grabbed 11 rebounds. David Robinson played one of his best games of the year with 21 points, 15 rebounds and 6 blocks. Willie Anderson led all scorers with 25.

November 24, 1991
The Spurs let Clyde Drexler run loose for 48 points (17-28, 3-7, 11-13) as the Trail Blazers defeated the Spurs 116-111. Once again, the Spurs could not overcome their first quarter woes in Portland. The Spurs were down by 8, 33-25, after one and they could not make up the deficit. In defeat, David Robinson had 25 points, 20 rebounds and 9 blocks. Sean Elliott added 21 points, 7 rebounds and 6 assists. The Spurs lost both games on this road trip and their road record for the month stands at 1-3.

November 27, 1991
The Spurs did not let their two game losing streak continue at home. The winning streak was extended to seven straight home wins as David Robinson put up All-Star numbers for the second straight game. Robinson had 31 points, 15 rebounds and 7 blocks to lead the Spurs to a 106-100 win. Sean Elliott, who had 3 points at intermission, came back in the second half with 17 to finish the game with 20. Sean also had 8 rebounds and 4 assists. Drazen Petrovic was on fire for the Nets with 32 points. He was 4 for 6 from the 3-pt. line.

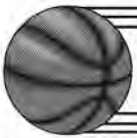
November 29, 1991
The Spurs were able to stop their road loss woes by playing great team defense in Atlanta. The Spurs had their lowest offensive output (88 points), but the Spurs held the Hawks to 85 points and 39% shooting from the floor. The Spurs finished the month at 2-3 on the road with 12 road games awaiting the team in December. David Robinson scored 20 points, grabbed 13 rebounds and had 4 blocks. Carr and Elliott each added 18 points.

November 30, 1991
The month of November ends on a very solid not as the Spurs, who had just returned from Atlanta, pounded the Seattle Supersonics 119-101 to finish the month a perfect 8-0 at home and 10-3 overall. This was a night where the fans saw David Robinson be come a member of the 700 block club in only 177 games. David finished the game with 23 points, 16 rebounds, 6 blocks and 8 assists. Sean Elliott added 20 points in a game that saw the entire Spurs bench play. Tom Copa had a career night with 5 points and 4 rebounds. Eddie Johnson was the bright spot for the Sonics with 21 points.

December 3, 1991
The month of December and the return of Antoine Carr to the Arco Arena are not happy ones as the Spurs lose by five to the Kings 99-94. The Spurs have 11 remaining games on the road and they are off to a 0-1 start. Even though this game leaves a bad taste in the mouths of Spurs fans, there was one 7-1 bright spot...David Robinson. David had 30 points and 4 blocks to go along with his new career-high 24 rebounds (12 offensive and 12 defensive). Elliott added 18 and Mitch Richmond led the kings with 24.

December 4, 1991
The LA Sports Arena might as well be a jinxed Arena as far as the Spurs are concerned. The Spurs, who lost both games in 90-91 in Los Angeles, did it again with a 92-81 defeat to the Clippers. For the second straight night the Spurs shot under 40% as a team and had only two players in double figures. The team leader was Sean Elliott with 24 points and 6 rebounds. Robinson added 15 rebounds and 8 blocks in a losing cause. Ron Harper led the Clippers with 18 to even the series at 1-1.

December 6, 1991
The TNT trucks pulled into town for the first time this season and boy what a game the fans saw. The two premiere players in the league for each team entertained all night. It was the Karl Malone and David Robinson show. Robinson finished with 31 points, 17 rebounds, 7 assists and 6 blocks to lead the Spurs in all of the mentioned categories. Karl Malone finished with 31 points and 12 rebounds as both players guarded one another all night. The difference in this battle was one point. Utah 93- San Antonio 92. The Spurs lost their first home game of the season and month. These teams will meet again on January 22nd in the Delta Center in Utah.



1991-1992 Review

December 8, 1991

The Spurs were finally on a charter as they headed to Milwaukee to take on the Bucks. KSAT-12 was there to watch the Spurs drop their fourth straight on homecoming day. The Bucks roster sports four ex-Spurs and they combined for 40 points, as the Bucks downed the Spurs 102-83. The Spurs have yet to win a game in December as all four losses have been under 100 points. Robinson scores 19 and Elliott adds 18, but that is the only offense the Spurs can muster. Tom Copa had his first NBA start before his hometown fans, but Moses Malone had plans to ruin the homecoming with 21 points and 14 rebounds.

December 10, 1991

The Spurs took their four game losing streak into Market Square Arena to face Chuck Person and the Indiana Pacers. Larry Brown and Bob Hill were both well dressed as the Spurs saw a fourth quarter rally by the Pacers end all chances of the losing streak coming to an end. The Pacers win 109-102 and the Spurs have now lost five straight. Anderson found his offensive game with 22, but that was not enough. Sid Green came off the bench for a Spurs high. The Pacers were led by Reggie Miller's 25 points and Michael Williams' 10 assists.

December 11, 1991

The Spurs took their five game losing streak, the longest in the career of David Robinson, into the Target Center and The Admiral decided that the streak would stop here. With 35 points, 14 rebounds and 9 blocks Robinson won the game for the Spurs. Sean Elliott added 12 points, 8 rebounds and 4 assists to aide The Admiral. The Spurs held another opponent to under 40% shooting from the floor at 38%. Gerald Glass was the top scorer for the Wolves with 21.

December 13, 1991

It was Friday the 13th and the Spurs had just returned home from their three-game road trip to find that TNT was back in town to televise their game against the Suns. The Spurs were 0-2 on TNT going into this game and the efforts of Sean Elliott and David Robinson were wasted again. Sean finished with a season high 32 points and David added 15 rebounds with 30 points, but the Spurs lost to the Suns 112-107. The Suns were on fire with Hornacek scoring 26 and Chambers 24 to give the Spurs two straight losses at home. The Spurs need a Christmas present as the team now stands at 1-6 for the month.

December 14, 1991

One night earlier against Phoenix 107 points was not good enough for a win. But how things can change in one night. The Spurs traveled to Houston for their first meeting of the year and the Spurs won 107-100 with a spirited team win. Carr led the team with 21 and Robinson and Elliott each added 20, as the team outscored the Rockets 32-21 in the fourth quarter. With five fouls, Robinson made the key play of the game, as he blocked a driving Kenny Smith lay-up to ensure that the game would not be tied for the 28th time.

December 17, 1991

It was a rainy and miserable day outside and the weather matched the mood of the Spurs faithful, as the club announced that Avery Johnson and Jud Buechler were waived. Signed was Morlon Wiley, who was cut by Orlando, and he was in uniform in Dallas to take on the Mavericks. Through all of this, the team played like a champion and won 98-87 for the team's second straight win and their third on the road. The hero of this game was Willie Anderson. Anderson, who was fighting off trade rumors, played his finest night and recorded his first triple-double (18 pts, 12 rebs, 12 assists). Mr. Honeymooner, David Robinson, also played a splendid game with 22 pts, 12 rebs and 8 blocks.

December 18, 1991

The Spurs did not fare too well after their solid win in Dallas, when the team had to deal with player releasings and trade rumors. The returned home to face the 6-17 Bullets and to try and end their two game home losing streak. But what the Spurs did not count on was Michael Adams having a career night. He finished with 35 points, while connecting on 6-11 three point shots and a 96-93 Bullet win. Also, Mr. Robinson was involved in an altercation with Harvey Grant that had both players ejected from the game. Robinson and Elliott each had 25 points, but their efforts were wasted as the starting backcourt scoring was Bullets: 47- Spurs 9.

December 20, 1991

In less than a week, the Phoenix Suns dropped the Spurs. This time the Suns blazed by the Spurs 116-91 as Jeff Hornacek went wild with 28 points on 10-17 shooting. The Spurs were tentative once again in the backcourt and the only two Spurs players that are consistently producing are Robinson (20 pts, 16 rebounds, 5 blocks) and Elliott (18 pts, 6 rebounds, 6 assists). The Spurs are 13-11 and 3-8 for December with 5 games left.

December 23, 1991

The Sacramento Kings were in town and it turned out to be a kind of reunion game. It marked the return of Dwayne Schintzius and Rod Strickland. The Spurs were looking for revenge as the Kings had knocked off the Spurs 99-94 on December the 3rd. Rocket Rod was received by the home crowd with boos even though he played 35 minutes with 12 points and 6 assists. Sean Elliott led the Spurs with 23, but the offensive star was Mitch Richmond, who almost won the game single handedly for the Kings with 35.

December 26, 1991

Twas the night AFTER Christmas and the Spurs were in New York to say hello to Pat and Patrick in the first game of a four game road trip. The Spurs 0-3 mark on TNT had to come to an end sometime...and it did in grand fashion in New York. The Spurs swept the Knicks, broke their 11-0 home streak and thoroughly dominated the game with a 118-89 whiping. The Spurs attack was led by David Robinson who had 31 points, 11 rebounds and 8 blocks. TC added 18 as the Spurs won by 29. John Starks led the Knicks with 21.

December 27, 1991

Both the Spurs and the Cavs played the night before and both teams won on the road. The Spurs were looking for their second series sweep in a row and it didn't happen in Cleveland. The Spurs were outscored 32-20 in the final quarter and they lost 103-97. Tops for the Spurs was Rod Strickland with 16 points and 10 assists for his first double-double of the year. Brad Daugherty led the Cavs with 31.

December 29, 1991

The Spurs flew from Cleveland to balmy Orlando to face the Magic, who had lost 13 in a row. It looked like the Spurs wanted to hand the Magic a win with only 14 points in the third quarter. However, the Spurs woke up in the fourth with 37 points win 96-87. David Robinson led the way with 25 points, 16 rebounds and 5 blocks. Nick Anderson tied a career high with 31 points, as the Magic dropped their 14th in a row.

1991-1992 Review

December 30, 1991
The Spurs were at the Capital Centre ready to take on the Bullets to try and avenge their home loss on the 18th. The road trip was finally coming to an end as the Spurs wrapped up another season series. Once again, the Spurs found that they could not get over their second half blues, although Robinson finished with 25 points, 12 rebounds, and 6 blocks. The Spurs scored only 38 points and lost the game 84-94 to the Bullets. The Spurs won only 4 of 12 road games for the month of December.

January 4, 1992
The Spurs rang in the New Year at home against the Rockets and Hakeem Olajuwon. The only problem was that the Spurs were not prepared for a double overtime game. The final score was 112-110 as the Spurs lost their fourth home game out of the last five. A superb effort by Sean Elliott was wasted as he rang up 22 points and a career high 17 rebounds. The game entered overtime as Eric Floyd hit a 3-pointer with .7 left on the clock. Olajuwon led the Rockets with 27 points.

January 6, 1992

The Spurs took Sunday off so that they could think about what happened to them on Saturday night. In town were the Detroit Pistons, who had already disposed of both Houston and Dallas on their Texas swing. However, it was the first chance that the Microwave had to warm up his old team. Johnson was 4-7 from the floor with 10 points. Anderson had 11 rebounds to go with his 18 points as the Spurs won 100-90. Joe Dumars had 24 points and Dennis Rodman had 24 rebounds.

January 8, 1992
Mike Dunleavy and the Lakers arrived in San Antonio for their first visit of the season. The Spurs were 1-1 for 1992 and the team was looking for their 11th home win. The Lakers did not look like themselves without Magic, but the Spurs had a little magic of their own. Rod Strickland handed out 15 assists so that Robinson could score 22 and Elliott 21 to lead the Spurs to a 103-87 win.

January 10, 1992
The Spurs boarded their new chartered plane for the first time and they were headed to Oakland to face the Warriors for the first time since the 1991 Playoffs. The Spurs have quite a different team with five new faces on the roster from last season. Regardless, the Spurs were able to put two quarters together (2nd & 3rd) where they were able to score over 30 points (36 & 39) to defeat the Warriors 128-120. Solid performances were put in by Anderson (36 points to tie a career high), Robinson (27 points) and Elliott (8 assists).

January 11, 1992

The Spurs returned to McNichols Arena, where in the third game of the season, they had forgotten to show up and lost 97-96 for their first loss of the season. Tonight the final result was better, a 96-85 win, but it was ugly the way the Spurs recorded their 20th win. The Spurs scored 33 in the first and then dropped to 14 in the third to win by 11. Rod Strickland had a fine night with 22 points and 10 assists in 40 minutes.

January 14, 1992
The Spurs had won four in a row and it was time to come back home to face the Warriors, who the Spurs had beaten four days before in Oakland. The tune was different this time as the Spurs fell into 17 and 18 point deficits. The final score was 124-123 as the Spurs dropped their 15th game. Mullin shot lights out for 37 points and Hardaway added 31. The 35 points by Willie Anderson was wasted.

January 16, 1992
The Spurs began a three game road trip in Minnesota, where the team thought they could get off to a good start. The Spurs scored 38 points in the first, but only 17 in the second to make it a game at 55 all at intermission. The Spurs scored 33 and 37 in the second half to win 125-111. Highnote: Terry Cummings: 23 points and 11 rebounds. Lownote: Sean Elliott: With 5:51 left in the second quarter, Sean missed a dunk and dislocated his right little finger.

January 17, 1992
The Spurs were able to sweep the World Champions last season and this was their first chance in 91-92 to do it again. The Bulls were coming off an impressive 100-85 win in Cleveland and had an NBA best 31-5 record. The Spurs got off to a great start by leading 54-45 at intermission. But, a 34-19 run by the Bulls in the third period won the game 102-96. One Spurs player did play a great game for the fans of Chicago and TNT...Rod Strickland. Rod had 15 points, 6 rebounds and a new career high 17 assists.

January 19, 1992
The three game road trip ended at the Garden in Boston. The Celtics were without Bird and McKale, but that did not matter for the proud Green. Robert Parish came up with a stellar performance with 30 points and 14 rebounds to spur on the Celtics to a 98-89 win. The Spurs are now 21-17 and they were 1-3 on this road trip.

January 21, 1992
It was the beginning of the Bob Bass Era for the fourth time. Larry Brown was fired in the morning as the Spurs 13th head coach and Bass took over for the rest of the season at 11 a.m. A spirited Spurs team showed up to play as the handled the Clipper s 114-100. Cummings and Robinson each had 17 and David added 11 rebounds. The Spurs had six players in double figures with Carr and Sutton each ringing up 14.

January 22, 1992
Bob Bass' new team with a new 1-0 record headed to Utah to take on the Midwest Division leading Jazz. The Spurs looked like they were going to break their 15 game losing streak in Salt Lake, but it did not happen. The Spurs lost 100-98. High scorer for the Spurs was Willie Anderson with 23 with Rod adding 17.

January 24, 1992
The Spurs wanted revenge on the Bucks, who had defeated the Spurs 102-83, on December 8th and they got it with a 115-86 romp. The Spurs put together two 30+ point quarters (36 second, 30 third) to break away with a 29 point win. All the starters scored double figures with Robinson getting a team high 23 and Cummings grabbed 13 rebounds and Strickland had 11 assists.

1991-1992 Review

January 28, 1992
The Spurs were back under the spotlight with the TNT cameras back on the sidelines as The Chicago Bulls made their annual appearance in San Antonio. It was a match of Titans as each team countered one another punch for punch. The key to the game was the first quarter when the Spurs jumped out 31-23. The Bulls could never dent that run and the final was 109-104. A great game for the fan as Jordan had 39. Cummings had 30 and Robinson added 21 points with 8 blocks.

January 29, 1992
The Spurs could not let euphoria settle in because they were back on the road in Dallas the next night. What the Spurs came up with was a tremendous efforts by Anderson (21 points), Robinson (12 rebounds) and Strickland (9 rebounds and 8 assists) to make the game a runaway at 108-93. The game broke wide open in the third as the Spurs ripped off on a 37-16 run.

January 31, 1992
The Spurs ended the first month of 1992 at home against the Timberwolves and the team was trying to extend their three game winning streak. The Wolves were no push-over as the Spurs were behind late in the game. However, this was a game where David decided it was his job to win it. He finished with 32 points, 14 rebounds and 5 blocks in the 103-101 win.

February 4, 1992
The Spurs played host to their Western Conference nemesis, The Portland Trail Blazers, and the Blazers came into Tuesday's game with the best record in the West at 31-13 and they had won their last six in a row. The Spurs played their best defense of the year in the fourth quarter and they came away with a 95-88 victory. The Spurs held the Blazers to 36% shooting and that was due in large part to Robinson's triple-double of 23 points, 14 rebounds and 11 blocks.

February 6, 1992
The Spurs were trying to win their sixth game in a row, which would be a new season high for the club as the team headed into the All-Star Break. Well, after a solid second quarter (the Spurs outscored the Pacers 35-26) the team went on to lose this game 117-106 because the Spurs were outscored 62-46 in the second half. Reggie Miller and Rod Strickland both had a game high 28 points.

February 9, 1992
It was the NBA's All Star Weekend in Orlando and what a magical game it turned out to be. "Magic" Johnson played in the game of his life as he scored a game-high 25 points and collected the MVP trophy. The West All-Stars destroyed the East 153-113. D avid Robinson played a solid game with 19 points, 5 rebounds, 2 assists, 3 steals and 1 block in 18 minutes as the starting center for West All- Stars.

February 11, 1992
The Spurs hosted the Celtics in their first game after the All-Star Break with a 27-19 record. The Celtics were without Larry Bird and that certainly helped the Spurs cause, as the team defeated Boston 100-84. The TNT cameras were turned on and so was the performance of David Robinson. He finished the game with 23 points, 15 rebounds and 2 blocks in 39 minutes.

February 13, 1992
The Spurs began their four game road trip out West against their arch-nemesis The Golden State Warriors and Don Nelson. The streak continued for the Warriors as they held David Robinson to 9 shots (1 in the second half) with 14 points to win 109-94. Chris Mullin had 25 and Marciulionis added 21. The Spurs lost this game in the third quarter. They were outscored 33-18.

February 14, 1992
It was Valentine's Day and the Spurs had traveled to Seattle to take on the Supersonics. It was game two of their four game road trip and this game was anything but sweet. The dominance that the Spurs had shown at home against Chicago, Portland and Boston had now vanished. The Sonics breezed to a 108-91 win, as Ricky Pierce led all scorers with 23. Robinson came to play with 21 points, 13 rebounds and 6 blocks, but a 17 point third quarter killed the Spurs.

February 16, 1992
The Spurs were back in California still looking for their first road win in Sacramento and the key to finding their winning touch again was ball movement. The five Spurs' starters averaged 12.6 shots and Sean Elliott led the way with 23 points (8-12). The Spurs were also able to put two quarters of over 30 points back-to-back (scored 31 in 3rd and 4th quarter). Richmond and Tisdale had 24 each for the Kings.

February 17, 1992
With Magic Johnson having his jersey retired on Sunday, the Los Angeles press now looked at Clipper coach Larry Brown as their new headline. Brown had won his first three games as the Clippers head man and now he had to take on his former team for the first time. The Spurs came out of the lockerroom red hot, as the score after the first quarter was 34-29. But, the Spurs have been battling the recurring theme of losing intensity during the game and that happened in the fourth quarter. The Clips outscored the Spurs 37-19 and won the game 124-110. James Edwards led the Clippers with 26 and TC had his best game of the year with 30 points and 17 rebounds.

February 19, 1992
With only 31 games left in the season, the Spurs needed to get back to winning games to stay in the division title hunt. The Spurs were 5 games behind first place Utah in the Midwest, as they hosted the Timberwolves. What the Spurs needed was a great game from The Admiral and that is exactly what they got. David turned in 39 points and 16 rebounds with 3 blocks to lead San Antonio past Minnesota 113-103.

February 21, 1992
The Spurs were trying to extend their home winning streak to three against the Philadelphia 76ers and they were able to do so because David Robinson scored over 30 again. The Admiral led the Spurs with 33 points, 12 rebounds and 2 blocks. Vinnie and Sean added 14 each for the Spurs cause, as the team heads to Houston for a Sunday night match-up at The Summit against Hakeem.

February 23, 1992
The Spurs were on a two-game roll and they wanted to finish the month a perfect 6-0 for their last six games. In Houston, there was a coaching change as well as Rudy Tomjanovich was now on the sideline for the departed Don Chaney. Just when the Spur s had won two and looked like they were back on track, their visit to The Summit was a disaster. The Spurs shot 41% from the field and lost 90-83. The team had normal numbers with Robinson scoring 16 points and grabbing 10 rebounds.

1991-1992 Review

February 25, 1992
The Spurs started the week at home against Miami and they looked like a playoff force again. With a 123-101 dismantling of the Heat, the return of assistant coach Alvin Gentry was not too hot for the fans in South Florida. Seven Spurs' players scored in double figures with David Robinson leading the way with 26 points and 9 rebounds and 5 blocks.

February 27, 1992
This day marked the final regular season appearance between the Golden State Warriors and the Spurs and it was somewhat of a homecoming. Tony Massenburg and Jud Buechler, two former Spurs players this season, were both wearing the blue and gold of Golden State. David Robinson had done some of his own "trash talking" to the media on Tuesday and the Big Fella backed up his words. He played 41 minutes and scored 37 points with 24 rebounds and 5 blocks to lead the Spurs to a 124-103 win.

February 29, 1992
David's new nemesis, Dikembe Mutombo, came to San Antonio to pay a visit to Mr. Robinson's Neighborhood. Mutombo struggled so there really wasn't a battle between the two big men. Robinson was on (34 points, 9 rebounds and 7 blocks) and Mutombo was off (7 points, 7 rebounds and 5 blocks), but the Nuggets made it a game. The Spurs had their 6th consecutive home win.

March 3, 1992
The Spurs would play only two back-to-back series this month and this was one of them. A Tuesday night date with Minnesota, followed by a visit to Utah for a match-up in the Delta Center. This was the sixth and final time that these two teams would p lay one another. The Spurs were 5-0 and the law of averages were against them. The Spurs barely escaped with a 103-102 win as David Robinson put in a lay-up with 1.5 seconds left in regulation. The star of the night for the Spurs was Rocket Rod, who had a career high 19 assists with 14 points in 44 minutes.

March 4, 1992
The Spurs were hoping that the Warriors would help them in their chase against Utah, but the Jazz won on Tuesday night 123-101 (Karl Malone had 44 points), to leave them 3 full games ahead of the Spurs. The Spurs needed to win on their own. Well, the Utah hex continued and the Spurs will have to hope for a Jazz blow-up if they are to win their third division title. The Malone's (Karl and Jeff) came through with 26 and 24 points to defeat the Spurs 102-93.

After the Spurs loss to Utah, they needed to make sure that their 4-game deficit did not increase. In town, were the Phoenix Suns. The team that the Spurs were trying to catch for the fourth playoff position in the Western Conference. The Spurs gave the Suns a little dose of offense as Robinson (23), Elliott (21), and Strickland (21) all scored over 20 points to lad the Spurs to a 122-109 throttling of Phoenix.

March 8, 1992
The Spurs enjoyed a great win on Saturday night at home and they needed to follow that up with a solid Midwest win in Dallas. This game will never be called a work of art, however, it was a Spurs win, 93-81. The Spurs took care of business by out-shooting and out-rebounding the Mavs. Robinson led the way with 18 points and 13 rebounds.

March 10, 1992
The Spurs began their longest home stand of the season against the Hawks. The Spurs would play 6 games in the next 12 days before making their final Eastern road trip. Well, the Spurs have now played two games that would not be considered works of art, but they recorded another win. This time the Hawks fell 103-92 in a sloppy effort. Cummings came through with 22 points and 13 rebounds.

March 12, 1992
It was the first return of Avery Johnson, now in his Rockets uniform, back to the HemisFair Arena to meet his old teammates. For the third straight game, the Spurs put on a display that looked nothing like basketball, but it was their fourth straight win, 104-98 over the Rockets. Cummings had 31 points and 11 rebounds, but the story was Robinson and Olajuwon, who were a combined 0-6 in the first half. Hakeem finished with 6 and David with 15.

March 14, 1992
If the Spurs were to have any visions of winning the division, then tonight's game against Utah was a MUST win. What the Spurs got was a stellar performance from David Robinson who racked up his 8th career triple-double and he did it this time with assists not blocks (27-12-11) to lead the Spurs to a 113-106 win. The Spurs now stand 3 games behind Utah in the division.

March 16, 1992
The Spurs did not have too much time to rest because they were right back in action against the Hornets on Monday. With three more home games this week, the Spurs had their sights on Utah, who lost to Houston on Sunday, to have the Spurs only two games back. Well, what the Spurs ran into was a Hornets nest. The high flying Hornets shot 55% for the game and 61% for the first half to fly into the lockerroom with a 117-112 win. Larry Johnson continued to impress the Rookie of the Year voters with 27 points and 10 rebounds.

March 18, 1992
The Spurs would not let themselves slip and fall for a second straight game at home, as a team effort wiped out the Kings by 29, 118-89. This was the first game where All-Star center David Robinson played with a protective splint for his injured left hand. The injury didn't effect his rebounding (15), but it did effect his shooting (6-15 with 14 points). Sean Elliott led the way with 26 points.

March 21, 1992
The longest homestand of the year finally came to an end and the Spurs closed it out with a 101-96 win over the Seattle Supersonics. It was a special evening for one David Robinson, who not only led the team with 22 points and 14 rebounds, but Mr. Robinson broke the first of many George Gervin records to come with 5 blocks and surpassing the 940 career blocks he needed to put himself in the record books.

1991-1992 Review

March 23, 1992
The longest home stand was immediately followed by the longest road trip and the excitement all started in Philadelphia against Mr. Barkley. A team that seemed unstoppable at home looked very human tonight. The Spurs lost 105-92 due in part that they could not stop Johnny Dawkins in the fourth quarter. He finished with 19 and 11 assists. Robinson had 30 points (but he needed to take 29 shots) and 15 rebounds with his bad hand. Cummings had 19 and everyone else was under double-figures.

March 25, 1992
Could the Spurs re-group against a surging team and most likely the Rookie of the Year in Larry Johnson? This date will also be the answer to a trivia question some day. Tonight marked the night that David Robinson's string of 232 games came to an end. The Admiral watched his team fall to the Hornets for the second straight time 113-108. Kendall Gill had the biggest sting with 28 points for Charlotte.

March 27, 1992
Will Robinson's left hand feel better in the Miami sunshine? That will be the question as the Spurs prepare to play the Heat and try to end their two game skid. Well, life without David even against expansion Miami can look ugly. The Spurs lost for the third straight time 118-101, as the Heat went 9-12 from 3-point range and shot 51% for the game. Glen Rice mired the Spurs in a swamp with 35 points.

March 29, 1992
This game was a test to see if a national audience watching the Spurs visit the Pistons on NBC could raise the level of their game and end a three game skid. Well, the team showed a little more effort and actually put up a fight, however, the result remained the same as the Pistons knocked off the Spurs 107-103. It was a driving lay-up by Joe Dumars over VJ that sealed the Spurs fate. Top scorers: Cummings 26, Thomas 24, Laimbeer 22 and Elliott 21.

March 30, 1992
Tonight was the Academy Awards in Los Angeles and the Spurs needed to change their script of losing. The Spurs were playing their last game of the five-game road trip in New Jersey against the Nets and the story remained the same. Solid efforts were turned in by Cummings (32 points), Elliott (24 points) and Carr (23 points), but that was all the gas the Spurs had as they lost for the fifth straight time 117-109. The Spurs are now at risk of losing their fifth seed in the playoffs.

April 1, 1992
Would the Spurs finally win a game or would it be April Fools Day? The answer was given to us by Terry Cummings, who put in 35 points for a season high against the Lakers and a 104-86 win. The losing was stopped for the time being as the Spurs prepared for another home bout on Friday. Antoine Carr continued to fill the big shoes of David Robinson by scoring 19 points with 8 rebounds and 5 blocks.

April 3, 1992
The evening was set as it was time for the 4th Annual Spurs Legends Classic Game, which was played at halftime. Before the game, Mike "Sugar" Gale won the 3-point shooting contest with 11 points over Louie Dampier's 8. At halftime, the only real show was the Reunion Classic. Outstanding performances were turned in by all, but two players stood out. Swen Nater had 10 points and 4 rebounds and "The Iceman" George Gervin showed his magic with 14 points (on 3-pointers and finger roles). As for the game, Carr had 30 points and Cummings had 24 rebounds but the Spurs lost control in overtime to lose 106-113.

April 5, 1992
The Spurs traveled to Denver where the Nuggets were without rookie sensation Dikembe Mutombo. With the Spurs shooting only 43%, the Spurs sneaked out of Denver with a 90-87 much needed win. Leading the Spurs was TC with 24 points and Elliott, bad finger and all, grabbed 11 rebounds. Elliott's defense stopped leading scorer Reggie Williams (25 points) from taking the possible game-tying shot.

April 7, 1992

The Spurs looked like a M*A*S*H (Robinson, Johnson and Strickland) unit on this Tuesday night as they took on the Houston Rockets with a healthy roster. The Spurs played hard but a 27-17 third quarter run by the Rockets buried the Spurs hopes of clinching a playoff spot. It was once again the C & C show for the Spurs, as Cummings had 22 and Carr 19 in 95-92 loss.

April 9, 1992
The lights of LA and TNT were on the Spurs as the team started their last road trip on the West Coast. The lights of Hollywood must have been to the liking of Sean Elliott, who with a season high 33 points, lead the Spurs to victory over the Lakers 102-94. Elliott had some solid help from Cummings (22 points and 12 rebounds) and Carr (20 points and 3 blocks). Terry Teagle tried to help the Lakers cause with 18.

April 12, 1992
The Spurs made their last visit of the season to the Rose City to pay a visit to the Trail Blazers, who were without the services of All-Star guard Clyde Drexler. Without Drexler, the Blazers depended on Porter to carry the load and he came through. Porter finished with 28 points (6 for 7 from 3-point range) to lead the Blazers to a 123-97 win on NBC. Sean Elliott was the only Spur to bring his shooting touch with him (11 for 17 from the field) and he finished with 22 points.

April 14, 1992
The win-one-lose-one campaign continued as the Spurs struggled with the Dallas Mavericks, but went on to win 120-108 at home. For the third straight game, Sean Elliott shot the ball with confidence and was the Spurs leading scorer with 26 points. TC added 23 points and 12 rebounds to the cause and Rolando Blackman led the Mavericks with 20.

April 16, 1992
The Spurs traveled to the Valley of the Sun, where they were to take on their potential first round opponent in the Phoenix Suns. The Suns rested their regulars in Johnson, Hornacek and Chambers yet they still pounded the Spurs 121- 101 in The Madhouse's final regular season game. The Spurs are desperately trying to hold onto their fifth position in the playoffs and they really need to win their two remaining games. Starting once again in the backcourt, Sean Elliott led the Spurs with 20 points. Cedric Ceballas, the 1992 All-Star Dunk Champion, was the star of the game with 27 points and 13 rebounds.

1991-1992 Review

April 17, 1992
After a tough loss to the Suns in Phoenix the night before, the Spurs needed to rally themselves in tonight's game against the Mutumboless Nuggets. The Spurs were able to put a team effort together to win 108-94 and hold onto their fifth seed position in the playoffs. Solid efforts came from Terry Cummings (34 points), Sidney Green (11 rebounds and Rod Strickland (11 assists). The Spurs will now have the day off before facing the Utah Jazz in the 91-92 regular season finale.

April 19, 1992
Here it was Easter Sunday and the Spurs tip-offed at 5:00 to celebrate the end of another season. The problem was that down the stretch the Spurs could not stop Karl Malone or John Stockton. (Malone had 34 points and Stockton 21 assists.) The result was a 28-14 run in the fourth quarter that nailed down the 101-90 Jazz win. The Jazz finished the season at 55-27, exactly what the Spurs record was a year ago, and won the Midwest to face Larry Brown and the Clippers. The Spurs finished at 47-35 and earned a first round battle with the Phoenix Suns. After 82 games, there were several records that were set. The Spurs, for the first time in their history, sold out all 41 regular season games. David Robinson won the shot blocked title and Sean Elliott set a new franchise record for the most minutes in a season.

1992 NBA PLAYOFFS

April 24, 1992
The Spurs would give everything they had for the whole series in just one game. TC was determined to just "get one" in Phoenix to try and force this series to five games. TC came through with 30 points and 12 rebounds and Elliott added 22 and Strickland 20, but the Spurs lost in the last 16 seconds to finish the game at 111-117. Dan Majerle led the Suns with 25 points off the bench.

April 26, 1992
The Spurs would not let the Suns win easily. After all, this was the playoffs and the Spurs had turned it up a notch. But, the Spurs were outmanned by Perry and Hornacek. Both Suns' players went for 31 and the Spurs left Phoenix down 0-2 with a 107-11 9 win. Cummings continued his leadership play with 31 points and 10 boards. Carr and Elliott each added 20.

April 29, 1992
Would the Spurs go down in three? The Spurs were now missing three starters (Robinson and Anderson had missed games one and two), now Rod Strickland was out with a broken hand. Only Antoine Carr scored over 20 points. The game came down to free throw shooting. The Suns were 22/25 (88%) and the Spurs were 20/35 (57%). Combine that effort with Strickland's injury and the Spurs exited from Round One 0-3 by the score of 92-101. Elliott played great defense on Johnson and Hornacek as they shot a combined 17/31 (54%), but they both finished with 22 apiece. As the Spurs season came to an end, the team also saw their 67 game sell-out streak end as only 14,853 fans showed to see the last game of the year.

The Spurs continue to be a major attraction at the box office, not only at home, but also when they play on the road. San Antonio played before sellout crowds in 62 of 82 regular-season games.

The 1991-92 season saw the club set a new home attendance mark when all 41 regular-season games were sellouts for the first time in team history. The string of sellouts at home ended when the team failed to sell out the playoff game against Phoenix on April 29. However, the Spurs have sold out 64 straight regular-season games at the HemisFair Arena dating back to the 1990-91 season. The last regular-season game that failed to sellout was against the Los Angeles Clippers on January 22, 1991. They hope to continue that streak when the 1992-93 season begins this November. Over the last two seasons, San Antonio has sold out 81 of 82 home games.

Overall, a record total of 658,337 fans were on hand for 41 home games in 1991-92, an average of 16,057. The figure placed the Spurs 10th among NBA clubs, the same slot they held last year. The club played before 657,352 fans on the road with the largest crowd being 23,698 in Charlotte. The Spurs ranked 8th in the NBA for average road attendance. In all, San Antonio played in front of 21 sellout crowds on the road during the regular-season and two more in the playoffs.

Front row seats to the performance of your life.

At Gunn Infiniti, we believe that precision and engineering needn't take a back seat to luxury. You'll quickly discover that all three luxurious models of Infinitis are no strangers to performance.

Q45 A 4.5-liter DOHC aluminum alloy V8, 278 horsepower. In other words, 0-60 in 6.7 seconds and the handling of a sports car in a luxury sedan.

J30 We call the J30 a personal luxury sedan. Yet considering the performance of its 210 horsepower, DOHC V6, you'll feel like you're driving the world's first four-door coupe.

G20 The G20 possesses an efficient 16 valve DOHC engine. It has been described as one of the best handling front-wheel drive sedans in the world.

Put yourself in the front seat of a Gunn Infiniti. Simply come by our showroom to arrange a Guest Drive. You'll soon realize that for luxury and performance, Infiniti takes a back seat to no one.

Athletics and Brainpower. A Winning Combination.

Sports participation is great. It teaches the value of healthy competition. And teamwork. But when an athletic career is over, you still need choices. Balance your life by developing your brainpower. Balance is important. For a person and a college. Incarnate Word College has made a sizeable investment in athletics to balance its outstanding academic program.

Now, The College competes with the best and wins in six men's sports and six women's sports in the Heart of Texas Conference. Our athletes are also scholars recognized for their academic achievement, as well as a winning tradition.

Come to The College.

Exercise your Brainpower.

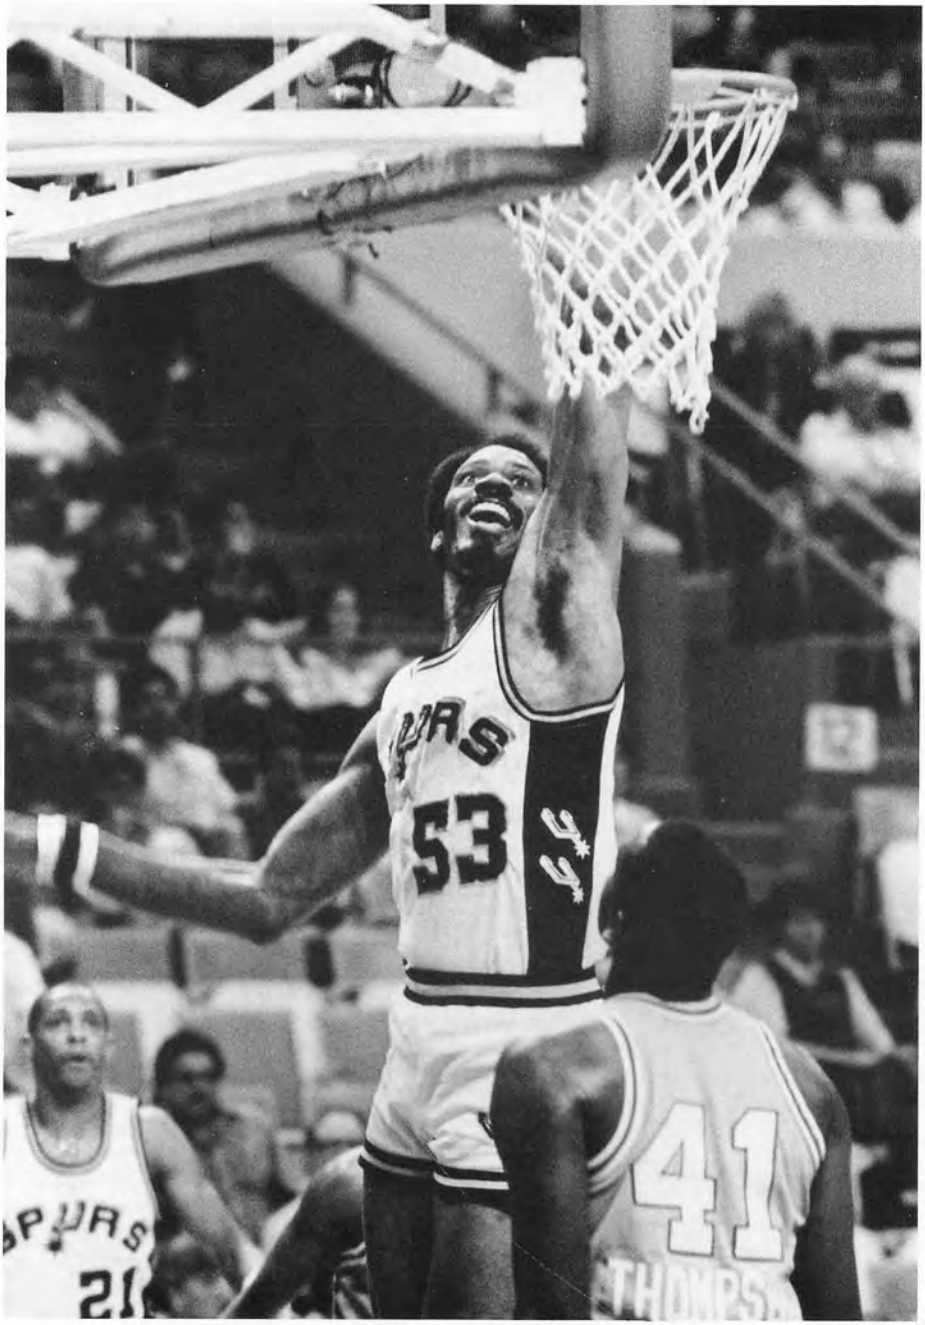
Current Spurs in Bold



Artis Gilmore

Center Artis Gilmore spent five seasons with the Spurs and still ranks as the all-time NBA leader for field goal accuracy (.599). During his stay with the Spurs, Gilmore led the NBA in field goal accuracy two times and was second his other three seasons. During the 1985-86 season, Gilmore was second in the league and the leader was another Spur, George Johnson. He finished his pro career by making 9,403 shots in 16,158 attempts.

1973-1974 Spurs

HIGHLIGHTS: Most observers said the Spurs would have little success upon their move from Dallas, especially when attendance fell as low as 1,700 for an October game. By mid-November, the club had started its rise. Swen Nater came from Virginia for a reported $300,000 and on November 11, with Nater in the lineup, the Spurs beat Kentucky before a sellout 10,146. Thereafter, attendance pushed to 9,000 and the investors brought in George Gervin from Virginia. Angelo Drossos negotiated the outright purchase of the club from the Dallas Group.

1974-1975 Spurs

HIGHLIGHTS: Two events, only one scheduled, marked the second year. Tom Nissalke was fired on December 13. Under new Coach Bob Bass, the team recovered nicely to win a club record 51 games. James Silas and George Gervin became authentic superstars. The second major event was the Spurs hosting the ABA All-Star game on 1/28/75. San Antonio's first national sports exposure. The Spurs were upset in the playoffs by Indiana, but more than 330,000 fans paid to see the team play. John Begzos became general manager, and Angelo Drossos was elected ABA vice president.

1975-1976 Spurs

HIGHLIGHTS: A stunning series of player deals in the off-season first brought Larry Kenon from the Nets for Swen Nater. Mike Gale came in a related purchase. Then Billy Paultz came in exchange for Rich Jones, Chuck Terry, Bobby Warren and Kim Hughes. Only James Silas, George Gervin, Coby Dietrick and George Karl remained from the previous year. The Spurs won another 50 games, and Silas was All-ABA. Attendance topped the 8,000 average mark. In the playoffs, Silas suffered a broken ankle in the first game, and Gervin played with a broken right wrist, and the eventual champion Nets beat the Spurs in seven. In June, the long-awaited merger came and the Spurs were NBA after three short years in San Antonio. Bob Bass became assistant to President Angelo Drossos, and Doug Moe came from Denver to coach the Spurs.

Spurs Fact

In their 19 NBA seasons, the Spurs have been in 7 first round 'mini' playoff series. Six have been best of five sets; in 1985 the Spurs lost to Denver 3-2; in 1986 they lost to the Lakers 3-0; in 1988 they lost to the Lakers again 3-0; 1990 they beat Denver 3-0 and last year lost to Phoenix 3-0.Twice the playoff series have been a best of three affair; in 1977 the Spurs lost to Boston 2-0, and in 1980 they lost to Houston 2-1. In 1991, the Spurs bowed out 3-1 to Golden State.

1976-1977 Spurs

HIGHLIGHTS: Ticket sales hit a club record $1 million, and the Spurs won their NBA opener over Philadelphia. James Silas was lost to knee surgery. A record 12,594 fans saw the Spurs play their first NBA home game against Boston. Twelve San Antonio banks had loaned the team $5 million for operating capital, and the team established a 60,000-mile TV network. George Gervin was named the first Spur in the NBA All-Star game, and Spurs crowds became known nationally as CBS aired six games from the Arena. San Antonio beat Washington on March 28 and clinched an NBA playoff berth. On the year, the Spurs won 44 games, finished third in the Central Division, but lost the homecourt advantage and eventually a two-game series to Boston. The Spurs led the NBA in scoring at 115 a game, Gervin was second team All-NBA, and the club set attendance figures at 376,134 and an average 9,174.

1977-1978 Spurs

HIGHLIGHTS: Momentum was there with the Spurs coming off a playoff berth and record ticket sales in the 1976-77 season. The Arena roof went up 33 feet for 6,000 more seats and the club participated in its first NBA draft. One hundred aspirants attended a summer walk-on camp and in the fall Spurs defeated Boston on opening night for a first-ever win over the Celtics. Late December saw the Spurs surge by winning 18 of 22 games and gain the Central Division lead...the Central title would be won with a 52 -30 mark. George Gervin and Larry Kenon both were named All-Star starters in Atlanta on February 5 and two days later the New Jersey Nets would be snowbound and for the first time ever a game in South Texas was postponed because of snow. In the playoffs the Spurs lost 2-4 to eventual champion Washington. On the last night of the season Gervin got 63 against New Orleans to win the NBA scoring title at 27.22 a game and was named All-NBA. He won the Seagram's crown and was the CBS/ Chevrolet MVP. George Karl was named assistant coach, Doug Moe was third in Coach of the Year voting and Angelo Drossos was named NBA Executive of the Year.

1978-1979 Spurs

HIGHLIGHTS: All attendance figures were broken with 488,207 for an average of 11,907, as the team won 48 games against 34 losses to capture its second consecutive Central Division title. Then the Spurs whipped Philadelphia 4-3 for its first-ever seven-game series win, after which San Antonio took Washington to seven games in the Eastern Conference finals losing game seven, 107-105. George Gervin won his second NBA scoring title at 29.6 and the team averaged 119.3 to lead the NBA. Gervin was named to every All-NBA team and won his second Seagram's title. James Silas returned to average 16.0 points on the year as 15,764 came to see the Spurs and Rockets topped only in the playoffs when 16,709 saw Philadelphia as the largest single game crowd in Texas history...five of seven playoff games were sellouts. Terry Stembridge retired and Sam Smith became the'voice' of the Spurs.

1979-1980 Spurs

HIGHLIGHTS: This was a year-long struggle for the Spurs. The final record was 41-41, the lowest since moving to the Alamo City, but the team still made the playoffs for the fourth straight NBA year and the seventh straight in San Antonio. the team finished in a dead-heat with Houston for second in the Central Division and then lost 1-2 to the Rockets in the mini-series. For the '80-81 season, Houston and the Spurs, along with the new Dallas team, moved to the Midwest Division in the Western Conference, along with Kansas City, Denver and Utah. Doug Moe was relieved of his duties on March 1 and Bob Bass finished out the year as interim coach. Stan Albeck was hired in June. George Gervin won his third straight scoring title at 33.1 and was named All-NBA. He also was high scorer with 34 in the All-Star game and was MVP. Spurs attendance averaged 11,431 on the year. Bass was named general manager in August. Ticket sales were computerized and rights were negotiated for Dallas' Reunion Arena and Houston's Summit and Astrodome.

Spurs Fact

In the eighties, the Lakers went to the Western Conference finals nine years. The Spurs went twice, the only other team to get there more than once. The Spurs had consecutive trips to the finals in 1982 and 1983.

1980-1981 SPURS

HIGHLIGHTS: Over the summer the club met four major objectives: hired Coach Stan Albeck, satisfied George Gervin's contract demands with the incentive bonus plan, had a good draft in Reggie Johnson and Michael Wiley and found center help in George Johnson and Dave Corzine. The incentive plan went in at 36 wins and ended at 56, giving bonus monies to all players. Morris McHone came with Albeck as an assistant coach, as the Spurs won a club-tying 52 games and set a new home court win mark of 17 straight games. San Antonio won the Midwest Division by 12 games. The "Bruise Brothers" came into being and gained national recognition by leading the NBA in rebounding and shot blocking. Mike Gale went to Portland for Ron Brewer and George Gervin again was an All-Star on every ballot. George Johnson won the blocked shots title and set Spurs records and was the first Spur ever named to All-Defensive 2nd Team. Houston won the playoff series 4-3 and the Spurs averaged 10,747 fans in winning a record 34 home games. Albeck was named SPORTING NEWS Coach of the Year and James Silas was traded to Cleveland as the last of the players coming from Dallas with the franchise.

1981-1982 Spurs

HIGHLIGHTS: After a summer of shaking changes in the organization - captain James Silas, the last of the original Spurs was traded to Cleveland and Bernie LaReau resigned as the only trainer of the club (replaced by John Andersen) - the club opened camp and then ran up a string of 9-1 in jumping atop the Midwest Division. The roster continued undergoing changes with the waiving of rookie Michael Wiley, the 'sticking' of draftees Gene Banks and Ed Rains, and the trade for Mike Bratz. With George Gervin out with injuries for three games, Ron Brewer started and scored 39, 40, and 44 to be NBA Player of the Week. Gervin got 47 at Seattle in his first game back. Paul Griffin injured his knee later, leading to surgery and Kevin Restani was waived in December, decimating the "Bruise Brothers." Brewer and Reggie Johnson went to Cleveland for Mike Mitchell and Roger Phegley. Gervin started in his fifth straight All-Star game. John Lambert came from Kansas City and Rick Yonakor signed as a free agent to complete the roster. The Spurs Sports Channel was announced in the spring as the Spurs won their fourth NBA Divisional Title and George Gervin won his fourth scoring title. Johnny Moore won the assist title and George Johnson the blocked shots title. Before entering the playoffs, the Spurs eliminated favored Seattle 4-1 before losing 0-4 to eventual champion Los Angeles. Stan Albeck signed a new contract. Gervin was All-NBA by everyone.

HONORS:
George Gervin, 4th NBA Scoring Title
George Gervin, All-NBA

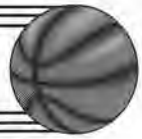
HIGHLIGHTS: This summer saw the Spurs draft Oliver Robinson on the second round before a blockbuster trade brought Artis Gilmore from Chicago in exchange for Dave Corzine and Mark Olberding. With Olberding gone, George Gervin remained the only Spur player on the roster from the ABA-NBA merger days.

1982-1983 Spurs



During August, 20 dancers were selected for the team later to be named Quicksilver. George Johnson was traded in August to Atlanta for Jim Johnstone and 15 players reported to fall camp as Mike Dunleavy signed as a free agent. The Sports Channel debuted with a Spurs pre-season game. George Gervin surpassed 20,000 points during November and on November 30 the Spurs protested a Lakers win in the Arena and the NBA upheld with the final 3 seconds to be replayed in April. The Spurs would win both games. Coby Dietrick came back for consecutive 10-day contracts during January. Gervin and Gilmore played in the February All-Star game. The All-Decade Team of Gervin, Johnny Moore, Gilmore, Mike Mitchell and Olberding was named by the fans and Gervin was Player of the Decade. The San Diego Chicken came during March. The Spurs won the Midwest Division, their fifth title in seven years and then beat Denver 4-1 and lost to Los Angeles 2-4 in the conference finals. Artis Gilmore surpassed 20,000 points in April. The team won a record 53 games. Gervin was First Team All-NBA and Stan Albeck moved to New Jersey after a court hassle and compromise with the Nets. Morris McHone became coach and Allan Bristow his assistant.

HIGHLIGHTS: In June the Spurs named Morris McHone as coach with Allan Bristow as the assistant and John Paxson was the club's first round draft choice. Mike Mitchell signed a new contract, veteran Ed Rains was waived and Paul Griffin retired because of knee problems. A Spurs team traveled to the Netherlands and beat national titlist Den Bosch 121-119. Fifteen players minus John Paxson reported to fall camp in September. Artis Gilmore received an honorary degree from Jacksonville. Paxson signed and Roger Phegley was waived. Mark McNamara arrived from Philly. In December, the 4 millionth fan saw a home game, John Lucas signed, and Artis Gilmore missed a game in December breaking his consecutive string at 314. George Gervin lost his consecutive double points games at 406 by getting 8 in Atlanta 12/17/83. Morris McHone was fired 12/28/83 and Bob Bass replaced him on the bench; McHone was 11-20. George Gervin was a Western Conference All-Star game starter and got 13 points 1/15/84 as the Spurs beat Portland at home for the club's 500th win. Edgar Jones was 5th in the All- Star Slam-Dunk Contest and Artis Gilmore played his 1,000th game 1/20/84 vs Houston. Bob Bass won his 100th Spurs game 1/21/84 and Denver beat the Spurs 163-155 in January for a league record points game. The Spurs did win five road games on a single trip for a club record. James Silas' number 13 jersey was retired 2/28/84. In March, the Spurs tied a record with eight straight losses. The Spurs finished 37-45 for the club's worst record ever and missed the playoffs for the first time ever. Board of Directors Chairman Joe Straus Sr. died in April. Angelo Drossos was St. Mary's University's distinguished alumnus. Sam Smith resigned as the Spurs radio voice. Cotton Fitzsimmons was hired as head coach and Scotty Robertson and Gary Fitzsimmons would be his assistants.

1984-1985 Spurs

HIGHLIGHTS: Alvin Robertson was the Spurs 1st draft choice, the 7th overall selection, and he was on the Gold Medal-winning US Olympic Team. Dallas won the 1st annual Midwest Rookie Revue; John Paxson averaged 34.0 and Ozell Jones signed after the Revue. John Lucas signed a Houston offer sheet, but the Spurs matched and traded him to the Rockets as 15 reported to training camp. The Spurs opened 6-2, but in November lost 7 straight and fell to 6-9. Ten days in December brought waivers on Ron Brewer, Billy Knight from Kansas City for Mark McNamara, Jeff Cook from Cleveland for Edgar Jones, Mark Iavaroni from Philly for a 3rd round pick, and sent Fred Roberts to Utah. George Gervin started his 7th NBA All-Star game and got 23 points. Sam Smith returned as voice of the Spurs replacing Larry Calton. Gervin surpassed 25,000 career points and became 9th on the all-time list. The Spurs made their 11th playoffs in 12 years but lost to Denver three games to two. Alvin Robertson missed the playoffs with a broken foot. Pat Tallman retired as the Arena announcer. Scotty Robertson resigned as assistant coach. The controversy began about where the Spurs would play, the Arena or Freeman Coliseum.

HIGHLIGHTS: The Spurs ended the debate of several months by deciding to continue play in the HemisFair Arena rather than moving to Freeman Coliseum. Gene Banks was traded to Chicago for Steve Johnson and the next day the Spurs selected Alfrederick Hughes with the 14th overall pick in the draft. Don Buse was hired as an assistant coach and Houston won the Midwest Rookie Revue II with a 4-0 record. Hughes, Mike Brittain, Tyrone Corbin all signed as draft choices. Sixteen players reported to fall camp in September but Marc Iavaroni, Johnny Moore and John Paxson remained holdouts. After six straight pre-season losses, Iavaroni signed and the Spurs signed free agent Wes Matthews. The Spurs lost their opener in double overtime to the Lakers and the next day Moore signed a new contract. The big news, however, came the week before the season began when the Spurs dealt legend George Gervin to Chicago in exchange for David Greenwood. The Spurs said Gervin's number 44 would go to the rafters when he was through playing. The Spurs had a good December and were 19-12, when Moore contracted a form of meningitis called Desert Fever and was hospitalized. He would be out for the year. Alvin Robertson was named December Player of the Month and that would be the first of many honors for him which later included a starting position for the West in the All-Star game, the Most Improved Player of the Year, Defensive Player of the Year, Second Team All-NBA and All-Defensive, and an NBA record 301 steals. Rod Higgins, Ennis Whatley came and went before Jeff Lamp and Ray Williams signed for the year. A deadline trade brought Jeff Wilkins from Utah in exchange for Jeff Cook and Iavaroni. Robertson in February got the second recorded quadruple-double in league history against Phoenix with 10 steals, 11 assists, 10 rebounds, 20 points. At one point the Spurs lost 13 of 14 games and eventually 21 of the final 25 to fall 35-47 on the year, the worst record ever. They did make the playoffs only to lose three straight to the defending champion Lakers. Cotton Fitzsimmons was fired at year's end, and in May, Bob Weiss replaced him as coach. Red McCombs returned as an investor and board member.

HIGHLIGHTS: Draft day was a big event when the Spurs selected Johnny Dawkins at number 10 in round one and followed with 300-pounder Kevin Duckworth in the second. That day also saw the completion of a trade which sent Steve Johnson to Portland for Mychal Thompson and the draft rights to Larry Krystkowiak. In the Midwest Revue III, Dawkins came in without a contract but signed during the week. Seventeen players reported to fall camp in October and the Spurs went 3-5 in the pre-season with new Coach Bob Weiss. After a 30-point loss in Denver opening night, the Spurs got Weiss his first victory at home over Dallas the next evening. In November, Mike Kavy was the five millionth fan to see a Spurs home game and the same night, November 13, the Spurs won their 600th game. ohnny Moore played again after missing most of 1985-1986 with Desert Fever. November and December were horrible for the Spurs at a combined 8-23 record. December saw Walter Berry arrive from Portland for Duckworth and Anthony Jones came in as a free agent. Mike Mitchell underwent knee surgery and missed 11 games. In January, the Spurs ran off a season-high seven-game winning string, as Berry became a starter and Alvin Robertson started his second consecutive All-Star game. Julius Erving made his last call as a player in February just prior to the Spurs sending Thompson to the Lakers for Petur Gudmundsson, Frank Brickowski, two draft choices and cash. At the end of March and the beginning of April, the Spurs lost a franchise record 10 straight games and headed away from the playoffs. The final 38-54 mark was the worst ever, but the movement was well underway toward youth as four rookies started the final three games. The Spurs posted their 14th straight home winning mark at 21-20.

HIGHLIGHTS: The highlights actually began in May when the Spurs' Bob Bass took a Red Chameleon to New York and the good luck landed the first pick overall in the draft — David Robinson of Navy was selected in June. He signed his first contract in November while serving two years of active duty with the US Navy. In the meantime, the Spurs beat Dallas in the home opener and were maintaining a .500 pace up to January 1 when things came unglued and the team lost 26 of the next 35 games and fell from among divisional contenders. Along the way, the Spurs were getting good play from rookie Cadillac Anderson, who was filling the role planned for Larry Krystokowiak, who held out and was eventually traded to Milwaukee. Johnny Moore's comeback from Desert Fever ended November 19 when he was waived, and Mike Mitchell underwent knee surgery on November 12. Those two were the only links to the Spurs teams of the early 1980's who were conference finalists twice. December 5, 1987, saw the retirement of jersey number 44 in honor of Iceman, George Gervin. A soldout crowd that night saw the Spurs defeat Chicago. Alvin Robertson in January was named by the coaches to the All-Star game roster, and Greg Anderson was named to the slam-dunk contest. During February and for the first time in club history, the Spurs played before consecutive sellouts in the Arena — they lost to the Lakers and Boston. For the first time ever, Anderson was NBA Rookie of the Month (March). And during March Red McCombs made a $40 million offer to buy the team. This saga would continue into April and May before a final price was agreed to by McCombs and Angelo Drossos — $47 million. While this was being worked out, the Spurs landed in the playoffs for the 10th time in 12 NBA years. The Lakers, however, dispatched the Spurs in three straight.

HIGHLIGHTS: The summer of 1988 began in grand fashion, as the Spurs' new owner Red McCombs hired University of Kansas Coach Larry Brown on June 13th for the departed Bob Weiss. The Spurs finished the month by drafting Willie Anderson out of Georgia with the 10th pick in the 1988 NBA Draft. In July, KSAH radio joined the Spurs team as Spanish radio would now be a part of Spurs broadcasts. WOAI was also back in the fold after a one-year absence and the Spurs announced their front office management team of Red McCombs as chairman, Gary Woods as president, Bob Bass as assistant to the chairman, and Russ Bookbinder as executive vice president. The Spurs finished the summer in August by making two trades. Albert King was obtained from Philadelphia for Pete Myers and Dallas Comegys came from New Jersey for Walter Berry. The Larry Brown era began in October at Southwest Texas State University as the Spurs had 16 players at veterans camp. The first month of the season ended with a 5-8 record which included an opening night win against the Lakers, the signing of Mike Smrek, and Willie Anderson being named Rookie of the Month. The Spurs played their 1,000th game in the HemisFair Arena on December 8, but lost to Cleveland. The Spurs (2-12 for the month) saw Johnny Dawkins lead the league in free throw shooting with a 92 percent average and watched Johnny suffer a peroneal nerve injury that would sideline him for 51 of the next 59 games. The Spurs won only five games in January while losing 10 and their record for the season dropped to 12-30 overall. On January 25th, Alvin Robertson sprained his right knee, and the Spurs now had three pre-season starters on the injured list. Over the month of February, the Spurs were 1-12 for their new worst month ever and ended February at 13-42, guaranteeing their fourth losing season. The Spurs finished March at 6-10 (19-52 overall) and along the way the team lost their 17th straight road game for a club record — ultimately it would go to 20 straight. One of the longest seasons in Spurs history finally came to a close in April. The Spurs were 2-9 and finished the year on an eight-game losing string. The final 21-61 mark is a franchise low. The Spurs and Lakers game was a sell-out and was aired by KSAT-TV, the first time ever a regular season home game was televised. Willie Anderson was named to the NBA All-Rookie team.

HIGHLIGHTS: he 1989-90 season was the beginning of a new era for Spurs basketball. In his rookie year, David Robinson lived up to every expectation, leading the team to an NBA record 35-game turnaround with a 56-26 record — the best record in franchise history. But Robinson wasn't the only new face for the Silver and Black. Terry Cummings came from Milwaukee, Maurice Cheeks, Christian Welp, and David Wingate came from Philadelphia, Caldwell Jones and Zarko Paspalj signed as free agents, and Sean Elliott was the team's first round selection in the 1989 NBA Draft. In the first game against the Lakers, the Spurs — with nine new faces on the roster — cruised to a 106-98 win, led by Robinson who had 23 points and 17 rebounds in his first NBA game. For the month, the Spurs were 8-5, the team's first winning month since December, 1987. On November 22, the team signed guard Johnny Moore, who had missed the previous two seasons after contracting Desert Fever. The winning continued in December as the Spurs went 11-2, for the best month in franchise history. Then in February more roster changes took place as Rod Strickland came to the Spurs in exchange for Cheeks on February 21. The next day, Vernon Maxwell was sent to Houston and Uwe Blab came from Golden State for Welp. On March 5, Reggie Williams was signed and the team was set for the rest of the season. The Spurs got hot at the end of the year, winning their last seven games to overtake Utah and clinch the Midwest Division Championship on the last day of the season. It was a perfect end to a perfect season, as the 56-26 record was the best in franchise history. A record 603,660 fans visited the Arena during the season including a club-best 18 sellouts. In May, came the playoffs and another old face joined the Spurs as Mike Mitchell was picked up for the playoffs. In the first round, the Spurs swept Denver 3-0, the team's first playoff series win since 1983 and the first playoff sweep ever. Then it was on to the Western Conference Semi-Finals and a battle with Portland. In the end the Blazers won the series 4-3, thanks to a pair of overtime victories in Portland.

RECORD: 55-27 (33-8 home; 22-19 road)
First in Midwest Division

PLAYOFFS: Lost to Golden State, First Round, 3-1

1990 DRAFT: Dwayne Schintzius, 1st round (24th); Tony Massenburg, 2nd round (43rd); Sean Higgins, 2nd round (54th)

ATTENDANCE: Total — 651,965
Average — 15,901
High — 15,901

HIGHLIGHTS: The Spurs captured their second straight Midwest Division title with a 55-27 record, which was just one fewer victory than the team posted in 1989-90. Unfortunately, the Spurs could not carry the success it had during the regular season into the playoffs as Golden State stopped the club in four games. There were a number of other positives during the season, however. The club set a new single season attendance mark when 651,965 fans attended 41 home games at HemisFair Arena, an average of 15,901 per game which broke the old record of 14,723 set just a year earlier. A total of 40 of 41 home games were sold out thanks in part to a season ticket base of 12,500 and the club finished 10th in the NBA in attendance. Center David Robinson continued to emerge as one of the NBA's top players. The former Navy standout won first team All-NBA honors and was also named first team on the NBA All-Defensive team. In addition, he was a starter in the 41st All-Star game and was chosen as the winner of the Schick Award. The Spurs had five players average in double figures led by Robinson's 25.6 average. Sean Elliott continued his improvement over his rookie season and was the lone Spurs' player to start all 82 games. He finished with a 15.9 scoring average. Forward Terry Cummings reached the 15,000 point plateau during the season with 19 points vs. Chicago on April 5th and recorded 18 "double-doubles." Guard Rod Strickland missed 21 games with a hand injury and the club struggled with a 10-11 mark during his absence. It was 14-5 when he returned. The longest winning streak of the year was 8 games from Dec. 8 until Dec. 21 which included six straight wins on the road. The only month the team did not have a winning record was February when it was 4-7. It was 31-11 during the first three months of the year. The Spurs dominated play against Midwest Division foes, winning 21 of 29 games. They also had success against Eastern Division opponents with 19 wins in 26 starts, including a 10-2 mark against the Atlantic Division. A total of 17 players performed in a Spurs uniform during the year, including rookies Dwayne Schintzius, Tony Massenburg and Sean Higgins, all selected in the NBA Draft. Key transactions during the year included the acquisition of Paul Pressey from Milwaukee for Frank Brickowski and Sidney Green from Orlando for Mark McNamara and a 1st round draft pick.

FM COUNTRY
Hot Country KJ 97 FM
Only the Best of Today's Hot New Country,
plus your familiar favorites!
At Hot
Country KJ-97,
our specialty is the way we mix country music together. We call it the KJ Mix. We play them all back-to-back, every time so you can listen hour after hour. Real variety. Not just the same old 12 songs over and over.
We play at least 50 minutes of music an hour, and we start every music hour with 30 minutes of "non-stop" hot country hits from country stars like Garth Brooks, Wynonna Judd, Alan Jackson, George Strait and more!
When you want only the best of today's hot new country, plus "familiar" favorites, lock in Hot Country KJ-97 FM.

MICHAEL JORDAN #23

In his career vs. the Spurs, Michael Jordan has averaged 37.6 points per game. And he must have some fond memories of the HemisFair Arena. In his career he has played seven games in San Antonio, averaging 37.6 points per contest and scoring 40 or more three times. But, the Bulls as a team have had trouble in HemisFair posting a 1-6 mark in the Arena during Jordan's career. The World Champion Bulls lone win in the Arena came on 2/9/89 when the Spurs held Jordan to 23 points, which is the lowest output he has ever had vs. San Antonio.

MAGIC'S BACK!

After testing positive for the HIV virus and sitting out the 1991-92 season, one of the NBA's most colorful players, Earvin "Magic" Johnson, announced in September that he will return for the 1992-93 season. Magic made two competitive appearances in 1991-92 and both were memorable. He won MVP honors in the All-Star game at Orlando last season and led the USA's effort at the Tournament of the Americas and the Summer Olympics in Barcelona where the squad won the gold medal.

#30 TERRY PORTER

Veteran guard Terry Porter has been a mainstay for the Trail Blazers for seven seasons after a standout career at Wisconsin-Stevens Point. He has averaged 15.1 points-per-game in his seven years in the NBA. Porter has been especially effective in the playoffs, averaging 19.2 for 73 career games. His 469 career three-pointers ranks 11th on the all-time NBA list. He will lead the Blazers into the HemisFair Arena twice during the 1992-93 season, including games on January 9 and March 13.

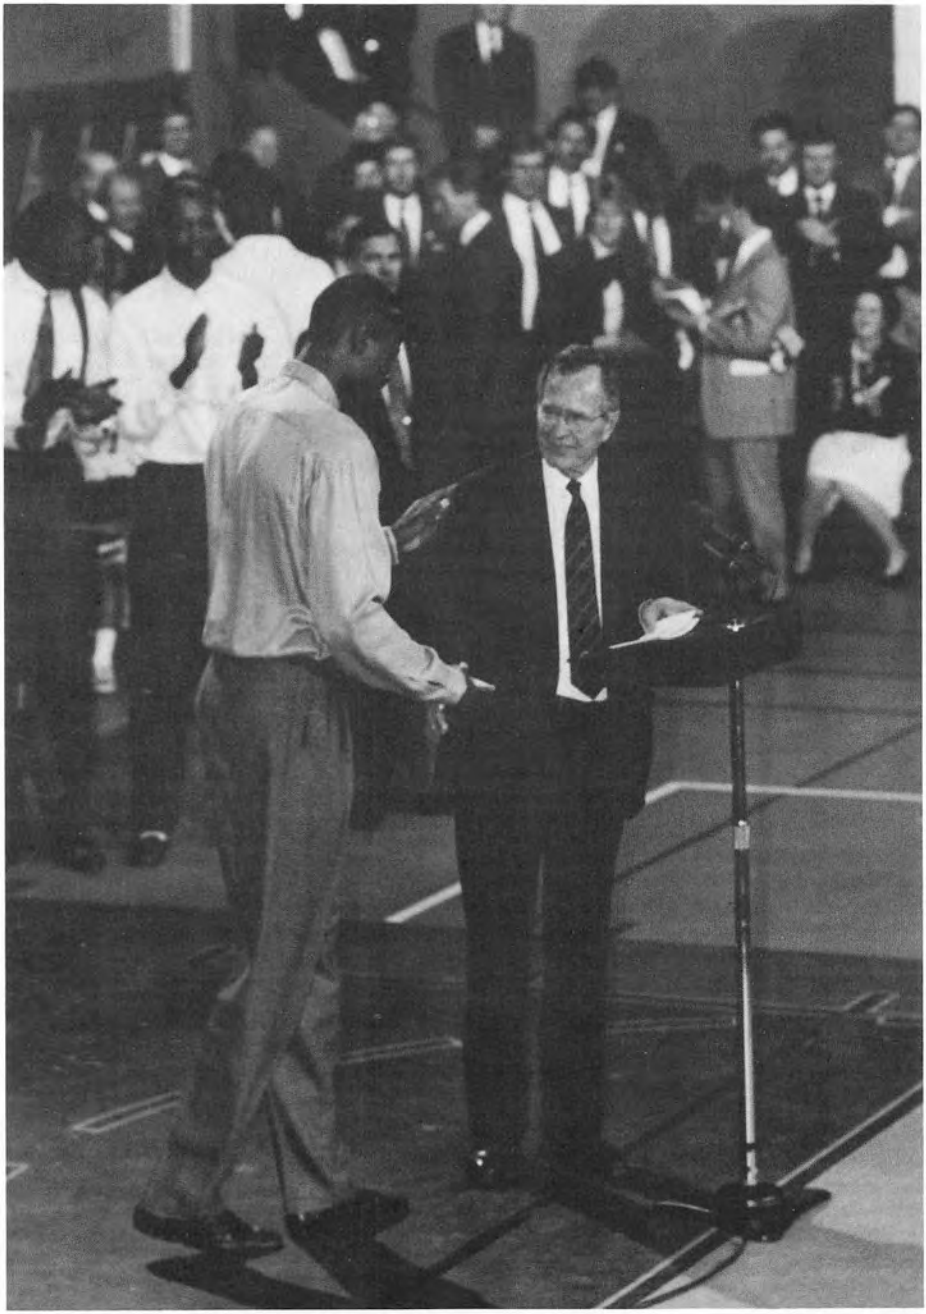
Spurs In Community



Spurs Foundation

The Spurs Foundation is a 501(c)(3) organization created in 1988 by the San Antonio Spurs to generate goodwill and financial support for a variety of children's charities in the surrounding area. Over the past four years, the Foundation has contributed nearly $400,000 to local children's organizations including Texas Special Olympics, Children's Hospital at Santa Rosa, Big Brothers and Sisters, Children's Shelter, Youth Alternatives, Mission Road Developmental Center, Boysville, Boys and Girls Clubs, Healy-Murphy Center, Cystic Fibrosis, Juvenile Diabetes Foundation, Any Baby Can, and S.A.M.M. Shelter.

Each year, the Foundation's board of directors select charities which will benefit from numerous special events and fundraisers during the season. In 1992-1993, the following charities will receive publicity and assistance from the Foundation:

AVANCE: This San Antonio-based organization provides services to low- income, high-risk, hard-to-reach families, and at-risk youth who are economically and socially disadvantaged. Avance improves the lives of children by educating both mothers and fathers to enhance parenting skills and economic success.

BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA: The Alamo Area Council's mission is to serve others by helping to instill sound values in young people and to prepare them to make ethical choices over their lifetime in achieving their full potential. The Boy Scouts have developed a special recreational program entitled "Project Emphasis" for youth attracted to gangs, crime, and drugs in and around San Antonio. The program's goals are to enhance self-esteem, instill sound values, promote acceptable behavior and prepare youth to make ethical choices.

CHILDREN'S TRANSPLANT ASSOCIATION: This Association serves youth tissue and organ transplant recipients and their families as they confront the emotional, financial and social challenges associated with transplantation. It's ultimate goal is to help recipients gain confidence in themselves so they may live normal and happy lives.

GIRL SCOUTS OF AMERICA: The San Antonio Area Council offers an informal educational program and safe, healthy and supportive recreational alternative to help girls develop confidence, self-esteem and leadership skills. Funds from the Spurs Foundation will be earmarked for the "Winning Girls/Winning Women" summer program for economically and socially disadvantaged girls.

PROVIDENCE HOME: Providence Home of Stella Maris Clinic serves Bexar County and South Texas families whose children are HIV positive. It provides foster and respite care in a warm, loving, nurturing, and home-like atmosphere. The goal of Providence Home is to provide these children with a healthy, normal infancy and childhood. The Spurs Foundation grant will help build a children's playground.

The Foundation's 1992-1993 fundraisers include a celebrity golf tournament in October and an opening season luncheon in November. A gala dinner and auction in the spring will showcase Spurs memorabilia and other coveted prizes. In addition, throughout the season, special events and promotions will help meet the goal of $200,000 in charitable dollars for the Spurs Foundation.

The Foundation's emphasis is on economically, emotionally, and/or physically disadvantaged youth of Bexar County. Programs with a recreation or sports focus are preferred, and no grants are made to individuals, churches, or schools. In April of each year, the board reviews applications to determine the featured charities for the upcoming fiscal year (July to June). To receive a grant application, please call the Spurs Community Relations Department at 512-554-7787.

Spurs Drug-Free Basketball League — Honored by President Bush

In 1989, the San Antonio Spurs and the National Youth Coaches Association (NYSCA) created the Spurs Drug-Free Basketball League, a non-school basketball program co-sponsored by Diamond Shamrock which delivers a strong anti-drug message as well as teaching basketball fundamentals. The program is a cooperative effort between the City of San Antonio Parks and Recreation, the YMCA and the Boys & Girls Club It is designed to motivate and inspire students, in the target age group of 9-16, from low-income, inner-city neighborhoods to remain drug and alcohol-free by signing an ID card and making a pledge. In 1992, over 2,300 children participated in the program and over 2500 children are expected to participate in 1993. Volunteer coaches lead the January to March league with bi-weekly team practices in preparation for the weekly game.

In February, 1992, President Bush honored the San Antonio Spurs Drug-Free Youth Basketball League as the 705th Daily Point of Light for the nation. The award recognizes those who successfully address the nation's most pressing social problems through acts of community service.

Spurs/Pizza Hut Midnight Basketball League

After the success of the Spurs Drug-Free Basketball League, a new basketball league for an older age group — the 17 to 25 year olds — will get underway in January 1993. By way of a joint partnership between Pizza Hut, the Spurs Foundation, and the Police Athletic League (PAL), over 288 amateur basketball players from the inner city will have the chance to channel their energies in this new 11:00 p.m. — 3:00 a.m. basketball league. The Friday—Saturday night league will run for nine weeks with the finals in mid-March and the championship game being played at least in part at halftime of one of the Spurs home games. The San Antonio Spurs, working hand-in-hand with Pizza Hut, NYSCA, PAL, Parks and Recreation and the YMCA are committed to taking a leadership role throughout our community and will continue to address the multifaceted needs of our community.

Coyote Kids

Front Row-- Kimberly Long and Jerry Herbert.
Back Row-- The Coyote, Tom Elliott and Stephanie Long

The Coyote has a moonlighting job this season. Don't worry. He'll still be out at the Arena cheering the Spurs on to victory, but now he has a new team to support — the children of San Antonio. Accompanied by four other young people, the Coyote leads his entourage, the COYOTE KIDS, to perform for over 25,000 children in area elementary school and encourages students to develop self-esteem, stay in school, and remain drug and alcohol free.

Following the them "Respect Yourself," the group touches on such important subjects as the importance of rules, habitual exercise, identifying feelings and avoiding dangerous situations.

The COYOTE KIDS represent the kind of young role models that elementary school students can look up to and emulate. Jerry Hebert, Stephanie Johns, Thomas Elliott, Kimberly Long, and Jose DeJoyos are San Antonio students with a lot of ambition and talent — role models by any yardstick. The students were all recruited from area colleges to audition for a $2500 annual scholarship. Now a part of the team, the students are eager to get out and make an impression on their younger peers.

Besides the school visits, the COYOTE KIDS will be making outside appearances at Spurs games and other special events. The program is funded through the sale of COYOTE KIDS notebooks at your neighborhood H.E.B. stores. So keep your eyes open — the Coyote and his friends will be in your neighborhood soon!

In addition to his game night duties, the Coyote is available for community events. Each year the Coyote makes over 150 appearances in San Antonio and throughout the state of Texas. For information on booking the Coyote for your event, please send a request to the Spurs Community Relations Department at 600 East Market Street, Suite 102, San Antonio, Texas 78205.

Project Goal

Sponsored by The San Antonio Spurs and H-E-B

Overall Program

* Honorary Chairman: David Robinson
* Audience: Approximately 200,000 students from area school districts as well as students in Austin, Brownsville, Corpus Christi, Harlingen, and McAllen
* Objective: Encourage students to stay in school, stay away from drugs, and "be the best that you can be."

* Project Goal is co-sponsored by H-E-B.

A. Mr. Robinson's Neighborhood —

Each year, more than 4,000 students are nominated by their teachers in recognition of the students' achievements. A total of 1,200 students from area elementary, middle, and high schools receive a pair of tickets to sit in "Mr. Robinson's Neighborhood," a T-shirt, and a certificate acknowledging their efforts.

B. Coyote Kids —

An educational program geared to elementary school students, Coyote Kids is a troupe of five characters from area colleges, who emphasize the importance of self-esteem and good decision-making. The values of education, self-image, safety, and health are conveyed by four multi-cultural characters and the Spurs Coyote. The troupe visits two area elementary schools each week, and covers each of fifteen school districts between September and May. Visits are scheduled through each district's drug education coordinator. The Coyote Kids each receive a $2500 sponsorship from the Spurs Foundation.

C. Stay In School —

This program annually reaches more than 65,000 middle school students. In 1991-1992 students signed a contract pledging to stay in school and graduate; in return, they received a full color "Stay In School" poster. The 1992 "Stay In School" JAMboree in the HemisFair Arena hosted nearly 10,000 students and featured Spurs players and coaches as well as a wide variety of local and national talent. The 1993 program kicks off in January and culminates with the JAMboree in March.

D. Teacher Recognition Program

This year, through a partnership with the Toyota Dealers Association and Spurs player Vinny Del Negro, outstanding teachers in South Texas schools will be recognized for their achievements in the classroom. The Spurs recognize the important role teachers play in the lives of children and want to recognize those whose efforts go above and beyond the call of duty for their students. One teacher and guest will be invited to and recognized at each Spurs home game and will be photographed with Vinny Del Negro.

E. Spurs Scholarships —

In cooperation with the NBA, several scholarships are awarded each year to graduating seniors. (No sports background is required.) The $1,000 scholarships will be awarded to students in the Spurs market area who exhibit not only good grades but also leadership and involvement in extracurricular activities. Applications are accepted through the Bexar County Scholarship Clearinghouse and approximately 1,000 applicants participate each year.

NBA Public Service Programs

Bob Lanier

The NBA, its teams and players share a commitment to supporting and improving the quality of life in their communities. On a national level, the NBA is involved in numerous public service initiatives.

Since 1989, the NBA and the National Basketball Players Association have worked to draw attention to this country's alarming drop-out statistics through the national NBA Stay in School program. Created to urge students to graduate from high school, the Stay in School program uses the popularity and visibility of NBA players and coaches to encourage young people to develop self-esteem, set goals, and dedicate themselves to learning.

Through public service announcements on TV and radio and other awareness-building projects, the NBA and its players also support the work of the Special Olympics, CARE, the National Committee for the Prevention of Child Abuse and Operation Prom/Graduation, a program that urges high school students to celebrate an alcohol-free prom and graduation season. The NBA also produces and airs PSAs saluting the birthday of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. and celebrating Black History Month each February. During the 1991-92 season, the wives of NBA players and coaches developed a national program to highlight the importance of breast cancer screening for women.

The Spurs Annual Stay in School JAMboree will be held on Friday, March 13, 1993 in the HemisFair Arena.

Alamodome

ALAMODOME . . . The Spurs New Home Starting in 1993-94

San Antonio's multipurpose facility, the Alamodome, is being touted as a member of the third generation of domed stadiums because of its design and versatility. The Alamodome has several design elements unique to domed stadiums, including a cable-suspended roof, a retractable seating system, a flexible floor grid system, formal entries and food courts. The Spurs will call the Alamodome home starting next season.

Dome Designs

The Alamodome will accommodate a wide variety of sports, convention and entertainment activities when it opens in May of 1993. The facility will feature 160,000 square feet of contiguous exhibit space, 31,500 square feet of conference room space, 65,000 seats and have the capability to expand to 72,000 seats for events like a Super Bowl game.

A telescopic, retractable lower level seating system – the first used in a facility of this kind – can be repositioned to form a number of configurations, including an arena arrangement at one end of the stadium seating up to 35,000. "A club level, located between the lower level and upper deck, will provide upscale seating for 6,000, space for a private club area and space for 100 club suites," said Roland Lozano, director of the Office of Dome Development.

The Alamodome, designed to augment San Antonio's existing convention facilities, will have contiguous exhibit space on the stadium floor. Unlike a majority of domes across the country, the Alamodome will feature formal entries and grand lobbies at both the north and south faces of the building as well as open food courts, which is a new concept for domed facilities.

Additionally, trade show/exhibit floor space will be equipped with electrical grids to provide the flexibility and power required by major conventions and trade shows. A curtain also will be provided to divide the facility for separate uses such as banquets and smaller exhibits.

The Alamodome will also serve as a major sports center, with the ability to accommodate many amateur and professional events, including Pan American games, Final Four and Southwest Conference games, national ice skating competitions, soccer, volleyball, track and field events.

Several events of the U.S. Olympic Festival—'93, including the opening ceremonies, will be held in the Alamodome between July 23 and August 1. The Houston Oilers will play two exhibition games against the New Orleans Saints and the Dallas Cowboys in the Alamodome in August. "The dome will feature lockers for both home and visiting teams and state-of-the-art press facilities," Lozano said. "Two ice sheets will provide the dual warm-up and performance areas required for major ice skating competitions. In all, the Alamodome will be the most marketable, operationally superior sports, convention and entertainment facility in the country."

The San Antonio Convention and Visitors Bureau has received 20 commitments to use the dome for conventions and assembly groups from April through September 1993. Sixty-five events have been booked into the Alamodome from October 1993 through September 1994. These include the International and Texas Shrine Associations' 1993 sessions and the 1994 Evangelical Lutheran Church in America youth gathering. Through September 2000, at least 50 events have been booked, including the American and Texas Dental Associations' 1998 annual conventions.

Dome Dollars

The Alamodome is funded by a half-cent sales tax collected by VIA Metropolitan Transit throughout its service area for five years. "Because of the innovative use of VIA's half-cent sales tax, which makes our pay-as-you-go financing plan possible, San Antonio will own its dome free and clear at the end of five years, said Arturo Sanchez, VIA board chairman. "It's unique for a city government and a transit authority to work in tandem on such a major economic development project and I feel confident that when complete, the Alamodome will serve as a model for the rest of the country."

It was originally projected that the facility would operate in the black by its third year of operation. With the Spurs playing in the dome, the project is now projected to be operationally profitable during its second year. The tax dollars collected to date exceed the amount originally projected by 2.5 percent.

Team Players

The Alamodome project is a cooperative effort between the City of San Antonio, VIA, Bexar County and other cities within the VIA service area. Owned by VIA, the Alamodome will be operated and marketed by the city.

As the project manager, Day & Zimmerman, along with Huber, Hunt & Nichols, is working closely with the city to help supervise the overall construction of the project. Design team members are Marmon Mok and W.E. Simpson, both of San Antonio, and Kansas City-based HOK.

ALAMODOME FACTS AND FIGURES

- Construction started in 1990
- Total cost is $177 million. The Dome will be debt free by the 2nd year of operation due to 1/2 cent sales tax levied in 1989.
- Total seating for groups runs from 5,000 to 77,200. Total for basketball is 32,500 and football is 65,000.
- All areas are handicapped accessible.
- Dome has 3,500 on-site parking spaces. A total of 12,000 spaces are within 1/2 mile walking distance.
- Ceiling height is 120 feet and the four masts are 300 feet.
- 160,000 gross square feet of contiguous exhibit floor space.
- There are 12,000 retractable seats, largest retractable seating unit in the world.
- There are 16 conference rooms located on field level ranging in size from 1,000 to 3,700 feet.
- During events, air temperature in the building will be kept between 70 and 75 degrees. It will be provided from an existing chilled water system piped from a City Water Board facility located across I-35.
- Because of the unique design of the suspension roof, all seating will have a column-free span.
- The Alamodome will be the only building in North America with two permanent ice rinks, and the only domed stadium to have permanent ice sheets as part of the basic configuration.
- During major events, the Alamodome will have the capability of satellite transmission to countries throughout the world.

Here's To Everyone Who Spurs On San Antonio.

© 1991 Anheuser-Busch, Inc., St. Louis, Mo.

Hi it's me Bill again. I used to play basketball every day at this place, but now I play on a team. We play two nights a week and I play guard and last game I scored 3 points and we won 9 to 4 and after the game Coach took us to Diamond Shamrock and bought everyone a Super Tank because he said we deserved it and he even bought us chips and you know next game I'm going to score 5 points.

ALL YOU NEED.
